North Vietnam 'Peace Offer' Downgraded

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam and the United States apparently have narrowed somewhat their differences over starting peace talks. But U.S. officials see little prospect the talks would be "productive" as required by President Johnson.

This is one of three questions on which the United States is reported seeking clarification from North Vietnam before deciding on its next move in response to a statement made last weekend by North Vietnam's foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh.

So far, Trinh's statement is regarded here as being primarily an effort to build up new, world-wide pressures on President Johnson to stop bombing the North without a reciprocal scaling down of military action by North Vietnam.

Officials said, however, that the Trinh statement is being fully explored through diplomatic channels to determine whether it was seriously intended to advance the prospects for talks.

State Department press officer Carl E. Bartsch told a news conference Tuesday: "We frequently said we will explore every possible lead . . . clarification is part of the process."

The key sentence in the Trinh statement which has set off a new round of diplomatic activity said: "After the United States has ended unconditionally the bombing and all other acts of war against the DRV (Democratic Republic of Vietnam or North Vietnam) the DRV will hold talks with the United States on questions concerned."

U.S. officials said the definite statement "will hold talks" was on the surface a change in the North Vietnamese position, which previously had been that if the bombing were halted unconditionally and permanently talks "could" be held.

School Debt $1.2 Billion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud has reported that the outstanding debt of state public schools stood at more than $1.2 billion at the end of 1966.

The $1,228,720,374 debt is approximately 4 per cent higher than that at the close of 1965. The schools in the various cities, villages and townships are given one year to submit their annual school reports. This year's report included much additional data, which made many of the schools several months late in reporting. The reports will be computerized in 1968, which means 1967's report should be available in about six months.

The report, a part of the annual school financial report now in process of publication, also disclosed that school districts issued new obligations to totaling $165,304,396 for the acquisition of new sites, the construction of school, purchase of school busses and to provide funds for general operations.

Mexican Troops Slay 4 Men

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Eleven Mexican soldiers machine-gunned four men to death Tuesday after the four climbed out of a pickup truck to open a ranch gate, authorities announced. They gave no reason for the attack.

Dist. Atty. Manuel Berdeja Fierro asked military authorities to arrest the soldiers.

Maria Victoria Torres Molina, the 14-year-old daughter of one of the victims, remained in the truck and was not harmed, authorities said.

Committees Appointed Solons Given Preview of Mayor's Policies

Tuesday night's abbreviated session of Circleville Council (about 35 minutes) saw little legislative action, but the city fathers received some indication as to what life at city hall will be like under Mayor Richard Gerhardt.

The agenda for the first meeting of the new year included the administration of oaths of office, committee appointments, hints of a city income tax and a briefing by the new mayor.

Charles Hosterman, performed his first task in his role of solicitor by administering the oath of office to councilmen. Receiving the oath for the first time were Dr. David Goldschmidt, first ward, and Noble Barr, council-at-large. Joe Bell, formerly councilman-at-large, was also new in the president's chair.

Mayor Gerhardt informed the solons that he would be lifting a load off their shoulders by accepting "all complaints from the people" through his office. He claimed that the jobs of council representatives were strictly "legislative" and the new policy involving complaints is a matter for the administration.

AT THE same time, Mayor Gerhardt told council that questions and problems involving the Service and Safety Departments should be directed personally to his office.

The mayor noted that he would assume the responsibilities of both offices until the political appointments are made. Harlow Arledge, Service Director under Mayor Gordon, has been retained as "supervisor" pro tem.

Gerhardt indicated the appointments would be made prior to Feb. 5, which is the statutory deadline.

Council President Joe Bell made the following committee appointments for the year: Safety Committee — John Jenkins, chairman, with David Goldschmidt and Boyd Horn as members; Service Committee — David Crawford, chairman, with Keith Wagner and Noble Barr as members; and Finance Committee — Robert Turner, chairman, Keith Wagner and David Goldschmidt as members.

Turner announced his committee would meet next Tuesday to review the 1968 appropriations. Some of the points to be considered by the Finance Committee, Turner said, will be additional sources of revenue (possibly a city income tax or levy), a voucher and requisition system for city offices, and a study of the cash funds on deposit.

In other action, John Jenkins was elected to serve as vice president of council. He and Noble Barr were nominated from the floor with Jenkins winning the show of hands balloting.

Gerhardt submitted a resolution, meeting with council approval, which expressed the city's gratitude to former Mayor Ben Gordon and Council President Harold Clifton for the many years of service to the community.

Humphrey Tour Continues

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arriving in Accra today on the third leg of his African goodwill tour was welcomed by J. W. K. Harley, deputy chairman of Ghana's ruling National Liberation Council.

Humphrey is the highest ranking American visitor to Ghana since the overthrow in February, 1966, of President Kwame Nkrumah, now living in exile in Guinea.

In his statement on arrival Humphrey said the Ghanaian people have good reason to be proud of their historic role in spearheading the African wave of independence.

Springfield Gets Woman Mayor

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Springfield, the first large American city to have a Negro mayor, now has a woman mayor for the first time ever.

The new mayor, Mrs. Lewis J. Brunk, the wife of a dentist and the mother of two children, was named Tuesday night to succeed Robert Henry, a Negro funeral director.

The mayor here is a member of city commission and is named by the other four commissioners under Springfield's city manager type of government. The mayor is not directly elected by the voters.

Viet Reds Launch Fierce Attacks on Allied Camps

Cold Stings Much of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Subzero cold stung a vast stretch of the country from the Rockies to New England today while snow, sleet or freezing rain hobbled motorists from Texas to New York.

The mercury tumbled to 29 below zero at Hibbing, Minn., as the latest in a series of Arctic invasions that began before Christmas settled deep in the midcontinent. Denver registered 4 below before dawn and it was 7 above zero at Kansas City.

The Weather Bureau had indicated Tuesday night that readings of zero or below could be expected in parts of 23 states.

Sleet or freezing rain brought travelers warnings for portions of eight states from Oklahoma and Northern Texas across Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky to Maryland and the Virginias.

The storm of ice which hit much of the region Tuesday and continued today closed numerous schools in Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee. Scores of traffic accidents were reported, and there were many reports of motorists being stranded on Tennessee's hilly roads.

Light to moderate snow blanketed the region north of the icy pavement belt and extended northeastward into Pennsylvania and New York.

Rain soaked much of the South from central Texas to Georgia.

In contrast to the bitter cold numbing the plains and Midwest, unseasonably mild, clear weather warmed Florida. Temperatures climbed into the 70s and 80s Tuesday, and Fort Lauderdale registered an early morning low of 72 degrees.

Thais Fight Red Force In Jungles

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thai soldiers are reported fighting a series of running battles with Communist terrorists in mountainous jungles of northern Thailand.

A Thai television news team which returned from the north Monday said military commanders in the area believe North Vietnamese and Communist Laotian forces have moved a battalion into Nan province, which borders Laos.

They said Communist attacks on government outposts had caused heavy casualties, and Thai units sent deep into the mountains were being ambushed by Communist patrols.

Gen. Praphas Charusathien, commander in chief of the army, said today 20 soldiers have been killed in 16 current operations against Communist forces in northern Thailand in the past week. Three Communist terrorists were killed, 26 captured and 16 surrendered, mostly in the north and northeast provinces, he told his weekly news conference.

Heart Transplant Patient Doing Well, Doctors Say

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's third heart transplant patient, was "doing very well" today, a hospital spokesman said. The 53-year-old retired dentist regained consciousness Tuesday night and in his first words since the operation said: "I am thirsty. Please give me regards to my wife."

The heart beating inside the white dentist's chest belonged to Clive Haupt, 24, a mulatto, but there was no objection from the chief defender of apartheid—South Africa's policy of racial segregation. Said Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster: "I am very glad to hear that the operation was successful."

Dr. Christian Barnard, who again headed the surgical team, reported that the operation Tuesday went as well as the epochal first transplant on Louis Washkansky and "perhaps a little better in that in this case we didn't have to shock the heart (electrically); it started by itself."

"In addition," he added, "the first time we stopped the heart-lung machine the circulation took over. We didn't have to restart the heart-lung machine as we had to last time."

Barnard was cheered by a crowd of spectators and journalists when he came out of Groote Schuur Hospital, after the five-hour operation, and a number of persons shook his hand.

The young mulatto whose heart was used died of a brain hemorrhage after a stroke while playing rugby on nearby Fish Hoek Beach with his wife and friends.

After the operation on Washkansky Dec. 3, Haupt had told Stanley Gideon, a neighbor: "I think these transplants are a good thing." Looking tearfully across the street toward Haupt's home today, Gideon recalled: "Clive seemed very interested in the first heart transplant last month. Every day he followed Louis Washkansky's progress. When Mr. Washkansky died, Clive said it was a great pity and hoped that the next transplant patient would survive."

Couple Loses 10th Child

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Philadelphia couple whose first nine children died in infancy have lost their tenth.

Arthur J. Noe, 5 months, was pronounced dead Tuesday at St. Christopher's Hospital for Children shortly after his mother, Mrs. Arthur Noe, rushed him there.

Today, investigators at the city's Medical Examiner's office sought an explanation in the pattern of deaths.

The Noes have been married since June 1, 1948. They have no living children.

Two years ago in February, their ninth child, Catherine Ellen, died as mysteriously and quickly as her two brothers and six sisters. The medical examiner's office said then there was no clue to the deaths.

Catherine Ellen had survived the longest. She was 14 months old when her mother found her slumped in a playpen.

GAVE UP HIS HEART — Clive Haupt, 24 (shown with his wife, Dorothy, last year) died of a stroke and a team of surgeons headed by Dr. Christian Barnard transplanted his heart into a retired white dentist, Dr. Philip Blaiberg. It was the first transplant between different races and the second performed by Barnard. Barnard told newsmen in Cape Town that the patient is in "very good condition."

Fire Destroys Old Apple House In Laurelville

Fire gutted the Laurelville Fruit Co. warehouse Tuesday night, causing an estimated $60,000 in damage to the building and its contents.

The familiar Laurelville village landmark was discovered burning at about 9:30 p.m. yesterday. The fire started at the rear of the warehouse on the second floor.

Over 100 volunteer firefighters from four departments battled the blaze for 2½ hours. In addition to the Laurelville Volunteer unit, firemen and equipment were rushed to the scene by Tilton, Adelphi and Kingston departments.

It was 2:30 a.m. today when the Laurelville firemen finally left the scene with the blaze completely under control. Other units stayed until midnight.

ALTHOUGH the interior of the building was gutted by the flames, the walls were left standing.

The apples, stored in the ground floor of the building, were not damaged by the flames. They were protected by masonry walls and a ceiling of packed wood shavings. The ceiling was strong enough to support the debris of the fire, and firemen poured enough water into the building to keep it from igniting.

The cause of the fire is still being investigated. Thomas Ebert, 30, a member of the Laurelville Volunteer Fire Department, sustained a laceration of the face when he was struck by an uncoiling hose and knocked from a fire truck.

His was the only injury reported.

Damage to the building was estimated at $40,000. Contents, including $17,000 worth of paper cartons, destroyed by the flames were valued at $20,000.

SOME of the equipment housed in the building was saved. Most of the loss was covered by insurance.

The three-story building has been in use as an apple storage house since the mid-1920s when it was used by the Bowers-Reichelderfer Orchard.

The present owner of the Laurelville Fruit Co. is Robert Bowers, the son of one of the founders of the orchard.

Before it was used as an apple warehouse, it was used by Laurelville athletes as a basketball court.

When the old Laurelville Community House was constructed basketball games were switched to it.

SAIGON (AP) — Communist troops launched a series of coordinated attacks on allied holdings in the northern 1st Corps area today, including a rocket assault on the Da Nang Air Base that destroyed three planes. The enemy in some cases took heavy casualties.

American officers said 241 North Vietnamese regulars were killed in two fierce actions Tuesday night and today, attacks on bases attached to the American Division in coastal lowlands 25 and 30 miles south of Da Nang.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from Da Nang the enemy, whose armament included mortars, flame throwers and rocket launchers, killed 18 Americans. More than 100 were wounded. Under air and artillery harassment, the North Vietnamese broke contact in the afternoon.

Other actions cost the lives of at least 19 Americans.

Rhodes Opposes 3rd Term Idea

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes issued a statement today saying he is opposed to any move aimed at permitting him to run for a third term in 1970.

"I am neither advocating nor supporting and am opposed to any amendment to the Ohio Constitution to remove the present limitation to two consecutive gubernatorial terms," the news release stated.

On Tuesday, commenting on reports that some Republicans may push for an amendment lifting the two-term limit, Rhodes said, "I won't take part in it."

Prayers Bring 50 Arrests

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Italian police arrested 50 Catholic youths in St. Peter's Square when they heard Pope Paul's call for peace prayers on New Year's Day. The members of Catholic pacifist movements began their prayers—in loud voices—before midnight New Year's Eve and planned to keep them up through the night.

Police patrols entered the square shortly after midnight and ordered the youths to leave.

President Approves Social Security, Education Bills

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — President Johnson has signed into law bills greatly expanding Social Security benefits and federal aid to education— keystones of his Great Society legislative program.

He hailed the passage of the measures as triumphs for the nation's poor. But he had nothing at all to say as he signed a third measure—the $2.29-billion foreign aid bill—which imposes the sharpest dollar limit on total U.S. aid to other nations since the program began 20 years ago.

Johnson said the expansion of Social Security benefits is the "greatest step forward" since the system was initiated during the Roosevelt administration in 1935.

The next phase, he said, calls for close scrutiny of America's welfare system which he branded "outmoded and in need of major change."

He appointed a 19-member commission to "examine any and every plan, however unconventional, which could promise a constructive advance in meeting the income needs of the American people."

The President named Ben W. Heineman, 53, chairman and chief executive officer of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Co., to head the commission.

The education bill provides a record $9.3 billion for elementary and secondary schools. The Social Security bill increases benefits by at least 13 per cent for 24 million persons.

Social Security checks going out in March will reflect the new increased benefits. Minimum monthly payments rise from $44 to $55. The maximum will be $160.50, compared to the present $142. The average monthly check for husband and wife over 65 increases from $145 to $168.

"One million more people will be lifted above the poverty line," Johnson said, and 65,000 disabled widows and 175,000 children will receive benefits for the first time.

Medicare benefits are expanded to include additional days of hospitalization. Outside earnings of $140 instead of $125 a month are permitted with no reduction in benefits.

There will be additional taxes, though, for worker and employer, amounting to as much as $52.80 in 1968 on earnings of $7,800 or more.

The new law keeps the tax rate at 4.4 per cent in 1968, but the amount of salary on which the tax is levied goes up from $6,600 to $7,800. Eventually, the tax rate will rise to 5.9 per cent by 1987.

The education bill continues until the middle of 1970 a program of aid to elementary and secondary schools, giving states the more say in how the money is used.

The President noted that he had signed the first elementary and secondary school bill nearly three years ago in a little wooden schoolhouse a half-mile down the road from his Texas ranch.

He repeated what he said that day as he signed this extended measure: "No law I have signed—or will sign—means more to the future of America."

North Vietnam 'Peace Offer' Downgraded

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam and the United States apparently have narrowed somewhat their differences over starting peace talks. But U.S. officials see little prospect the talks would be "productive" as required by President Johnson.

This is one of three questions on which the United States is reported seeking clarification from North Vietnam before deciding on its next move in response to a statement made last weekend by North Vietnam's foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh.

So far, Trinh's statement is regarded here as being primarily an effort to build up new, world-wide pressures on President Johnson to stop bombing the North without a reciprocal scaling down of military action by North Vietnam.

State Department press officer Carl E. Bartsch told a news conference Tuesday: "We frequently said we will explore every possible lead... clarification is part of the process."

The key sentence in the Trinh statement which has set off a new round of diplomatic activity said: "After the United States has ended unconditionally the bombing and all other acts of war against the DRV (Democratic Republic of Vietnam or North Vietnam) the DRV will hold talks with the United States on questions concerned."

U.S. officials said the definite statement "will hold talks" was on the surface a change in the North Vietnamese position, which previously had been that if the bombing were halted unconditionally and permanently talks "could" be held.

Turner announced his committee would meet next Tuesday to review the 1968 appropriations. Some of the points to be considered by the Finance Committee, Turner said, will be additional sources of revenue (possibly a city income tax or levy), a voucher and requisition system for city offices, and a study of the cash funds on deposit.

In other action, John Jenkins was elected to serve as vice president of council. He and Noble Barr were nominated from the floor with Jenkins winning the show of hands balloting.

Gerhardt submitted a resolution, meeting with council approval, which expressed the city's gratitude to former Mayor Ben Gordon and Council President Harold Clifton for the many years of service to the community.

The cause of the fire is still being investigated. Thomas EBERT, 30, a member of the Laurelville Volunteer Fire Department, sustained a laceration of the face when he was struck by an uncoiling hose and knocked from a fire truck.

His was the only injury reported. Damage to the building was estimated at $40,000. Contents, including $17,000 worth of paper cartons, destroyed by the flames were valued at $20,000.

SOME of the equipment housed in the building was saved. Most of the loss was covered by insurance.

The three-story building has been in use as an apple storage house since the mid-1920s when it was used by the Bowers-Reichelderfer Orchard.

The present owner of the Laurelville Fruit Co. is Robert Bowers, the son of one of the founders of the orchard.

Before it was used as an apple warehouse, it was used by Laurelville athletes as a basketball court.

When the old Laurelville Community House was constructed basketball games were switched to it.

Enemy Loses 241 Soldiers In 2 Battles

SAIGON (AP) — Communist troops launched a series of coordinated attacks on allied holdings in the northern 1st Corps area today, including a rocket assault on the Da Nang Air Base that destroyed three planes. The enemy in some cases took heavy casualties.

American officers said 241 North Vietnamese regulars were killed in two fierce actions Tuesday night and today, attacks on bases attached to the American Division in coastal lowlands 25 and 30 miles south of Da Nang.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from Da Nang the enemy, whose armament included mortars, flame throwers and rocket launchers, killed 18 Americans. More than 100 were wounded. Under air and artillery harassment, the North Vietnamese broke contact in the afternoon.

Other actions cost the lives of at least 19 Americans.

Rhodes Opposes 3rd Term Idea

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes issued a statement today saying he is opposed to any move aimed at permitting him to run for a third term in 1970.

"I am neither advocating nor supporting and am opposed to any amendment to the Ohio Constitution to remove the present limitation to two consecutive gubernatorial terms," the news release stated.

On Tuesday, commenting on reports that some Republicans may push for an amendment lifting the two-term limit, Rhodes said, "I won't take part in it."

Prayers Bring 50 Arrests

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Italian police arrested 50 Catholic youths in St. Peter's Square when they heeded Pope Paul's call for peace prayers on New Year's Day. The members of Catholic pacifist movements began their prayers—in loud voices—before midnight New Year's Eve and planned to keep them up through the night. Police patrols entered the square shortly after midnight and ordered the youths to leave.

President Approves Social Security, Education Bills

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — President Johnson has signed into law bills greatly expanding Social Security benefits and federal aid to education—keystones of his Great Society legislative program.

He hailed the passage of the measures as triumphs for the nation's poor. But he had nothing at all to say as he signed a third measure—the $2.29-billion foreign aid bill—which imposes the sharpest dollar limit on total U.S. aid to other nations since the program began 20 years ago.

Johnson said the expansion of Social Security benefits is the "greatest step forward" since the system was initiated during the Roosevelt administration in 1935.

The next phase, he said, calls for close scrutiny of America's welfare system which he branded "outmoded and in need of major change."

He appointed a 19-member commission to "examine any and every plan, however unconventional, which could promise a constructive advance in meeting the income needs of the American people."

The President named Ben W. Heineman, 53, chairman and chief executive officer of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Co., to head the commission.

The education bill provides a record $9.3 billion for elementary and secondary schools. The Social Security bill increases benefits by at least 13 per cent for 24 million persons.

Social Security checks going out in March will reflect the new increased benefits. Minimum monthly payments rise from $44 to $55. The maximum will be $160.50, compared to the present $142. The average monthly check for husband and wife over 65 increases from $145 to $165.

"One million more people will be lifted above the poverty line," Johnson said, and 65,000 disabled widows and 175,000 children will receive benefits for the first time.

Medicare benefits are expanded to include additional days of hospitalization. Outside earnings of $140 instead of $125 a month are permitted with no reduction in benefits.

There will be additional taxes, though, for worker and employer, amounting to as much as $52.80 in 1968 on earnings of $7,800 or more.

The new law keeps the tax rate at 4.4 per cent in 1968, but the amount of salary on which the tax is levied goes up from $6,600 to $7,800. Eventually, the tax rate will rise to 5.9 per cent by 1987.

The education bill continues until the middle of 1970 a program of aid to elementary and secondary schools, giving states more say in how the money is used.

The President noted that he had signed the first elementary and secondary school bill nearly three years ago in a little wooden schoolhouse a half-mile down the road from his Texas ranch.

He repeated what he said that day as he signed this extended measure: "No law I have signed—or will sign—means more to the future of America."

Romney, Reagan Eye '68 Politics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan Gov. George Romney says he will carry his drive for the GOP presidential nomination to New Hampshire Jan. 12, and California Gov. Ronald Reagan makes it clear he wants a leading role in choosing the Republican nominee.

Romney, due to return today from a world tour, will leave for New Hampshire shortly after he delivers his "state of the state" message to the Michigan Legislature next week.

Meanwhile, Reagan—who insists he is not a candidate for the nomination—announced he has formed a state-wide committee to pick members of the favorite-son delegation he will lead to the Republican convention at Miami Beach in August. He said the group will cover "the broad spectrum of the party."

In the past, Reagan told a news conference, "California has thrown away opportunities to have some influence on the unified delegation."

He indicated he might hold the delegates to his favorite-son candidacy beyond the first ballot. But he said he would not require the delegates to pledge themselves to vote as a single unit.

In previous statements Reagan has said he hopes to avoid an intra-party fight in the California primary between GOP conservatives and moderates.

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace planned to hold a news conference today in Santa Monica, Calif. He gave no prior indication what it would be about but it could relate to his apparent success in getting his American Independent Party on California's 1968 ballot.

Wallace campaigned for more than a month in California to secure the 66,059 voter signatures needed to put the party on the ballot. Tuesday was the final day for collecting the signatures.

Enemy Loses

skies above Hanoi. North Vietnam claimed three U.S. jets after a New Year's truce which were downed.

Heavy fighting traced South Vietnam, but it was in the five northern provinces of the 1st Corps Area that the action was hottest.

These actions were reported:
1. Red gunners fired a number of 122mm rockets into a unit of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division bivouacked in the Que Non Valley 25 miles south of Da Nang, then followed with a ground attack. Initial reports said 11 cavalymen were killed, 70 were wounded and the fight was continuing. There was no report of enemy casualties.

2. Earlier before dawn the enemy raked the flight lines at the big Da Nang base with 45 of the big 122mm rockets, destroyed a $2-million Phantom jet and two light spotter planes, badly damaged two other spotter planes and a two-engine C47 and did minor damage to 20 other aircraft. Four Americans were wounded in the 10-minute barrage and 19 others were injured as the sleepy airmen tumbled into the darkness and dashed for bunkers.

3. Six coordinated hit-and-run assaults raked South Vietnamese outposts within a 15-mile radius of Da Nang. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.

4. A combined U.S. Marine-South Vietnamese civic action platoon near Hoi An was overrun and all but wiped out. Seven of the Marines attached to the platoon were killed along with their Navy hospital corpsman and four more Marines were wounded. From 10 to 20 of the South Vietnamese militiamen unit were killed.

5. Three other Marine-South Vietnamese combined action platoons came under attack, including one less than five miles from Hue, the old imperial capital. Government casualties in the attack near Hue were reported moderate, meaning the government troops were hit hard. It was believed there were some Marine casualties also, but initial reports were sketchy.

Russell Evans, 720 1/2 S. Court St., and his son, William D. Evans, Route 4, contend in similar suits filed Tuesday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court that Edmiston maliciously and without cause filed charges of forgery against them in Chillicothe Municipal Court, April 13, 1967.

Each plaintiff is asking $75,000.

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department is investigating the theft of gasoline from a truck owned by Pickaway Crop Service, Route 2.

Deputy George Linder was told the truck was parked at the warehouse of the firm noon Dec. 30 with a full tank of gas.

Tuesday morning, it was discovered an estimated three or four gallons of gasoline was taken from the truck. Two lengths of garden hose were found near the truck.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The frock coat and suit President Abraham Lincoln wore to Ford's Theater the night of his assassination is being sought by the Interior Department for display in the newly restored theater.

The problem is not where to find the garments, but how to match the price their present owner is asking: $50,000.

As reported by the Washington Post, the clothes were given to Alfonso Donn, a White House doorkeeper, by the President's widow, Mary Todd Lincoln. They are presently owned by his granddaughter, Mrs. Marion J. Smith of North Carolina.

Mrs. Smith has offered to sell them to the government for inclusion in the Lincoln museum in Ford's Theater which is scheduled to resume live theatricals Jan. 21.

But so far, the Post reported, the Interior Department is unable either to get authorization to buy the garments or to find a patron to provide the money.

"We feel that these are the most important and meaningful Lincoln effects we could have," said Douglas H. Hubbard, an Interior Department official. "Our fear is that some private collector will buy them unless we are able to negotiate with Mrs. Smith and settle with her soon."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning Sunday Americans will have to come up with an extra penny to mail a first class letter and the Post Office plans to give them a choice of two six-cent stamps for their money.

Already issued in a light shade of brown is the 1966 Franklin D. Roosevelt stamp bearing the famous FDR profile.

Set for issuance in Washington Jan. 24 is a multicolored stamp depicting the White House to the rear of a large American flag. It will show the flag in traditional red, white and blue, the executive mansion

Ohio Solons Study Pending Measures For New Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess called in the lower chamber's committee chairmen today and Thursday to discuss legislation pending for the session convening Jan. 15.

Kurfess also said he plans discussions with Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami and John M. McElroy, administrative assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Leaders left pending about 80 bills culled from several hundred before the legislature recessed last August. Since then, other developments have added to the workloads — namely congressional redistricting and two major administration bond issues.

Administration and legislative spokesmen say some of the carried over bills may be scrapped. "Some were carried over for study and this doesn't mean they will be passed," McElroy said.

The governor's assistant said he hopes "top priority" will be given the bond issue and the redistricting proposal which resulted from a U.S. Supreme Court decision that knocked out Ohio's present congressional districts because of population inequities.

The administration has drafted a new redistricting proposal but it already has been attacked by incumbent congressmen and some legislature of both parties. This issue looms as a stumbling block in the session the administration hopes can be wrapped up in a month.

The governor within the past month unveiled his bond issue proposals calling for $700 million for highways and $265 for capital improvements. The latter includes $100 million for water pollution control to help implement a water management bill McElroy said "definitely" will get top priority.

Some of the major bills the administration and legislature leaders plan to discuss would require school boards to negotiate with majority teacher organizations, increase teacher and public employee retirement benefits, remove the statutory limitation on the number of highway patrolmen and determine size of the patrol by legislative appropriation, and permit school districts to levy an income tax.

Leaders expect to receive at the session a report from a select House committee studying tax deviation with an eye toward relief on property owners.

Indiana Crash Kills Ohioans
RISING SUN, Ind. (AP)—A two-car crash two miles north of Rising Sun, Tuesday killed Ethelena C. Brett, 50, North Bend, Ohio.

State police said an autopsy will determine if the death of her husband, Stanley, 55, was a result of the accident.

Officers said Brett apparently lost control of his car on icy Ind. 56. The car slid across the center line into the path of another auto.

Romney, Reagan Eye '68 Politics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan Gov. George Romney says he will carry his drive for the GOP presidential nomination to New Hampshire Jan. 12, and California Gov. Ronald Reagan makes it clear he wants a leading role in choosing the Republican nominee.

Romney, due to return today from a world tour, will leave for New Hampshire shortly after he delivers his "state of the state" message to the Michigan Legislature next week.

Meanwhile, Reagan—who insists he is not a candidate for the nomination—announced he has formed a state-wide committee to pick members of the favorite-son delegation he will lead to the Republican convention at Miami Beach in August. He said the group will cover "the broad spectrum of the party."

In the past, Reagan told a news conference, "California has thrown away opportunities to have some influence on the unified delegation."

He indicated he might hold the delegates to his favorite-son

Enemy Loses

skies above Hanoi. North Vietnam claimed three U.S. jets after a New Year's truce which were downed.

Heavy fighting dotted South Vietnam, but it was in the five northern provinces of the 1st Corps Area that the action was hottest.

These actions were reported:

1. Red gunners fired a number of 122mm rockets into a unit of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division bivouacked in the Que Non Valley 25 miles south of Da Nang, then followed with a ground attack. Initial reports said 11 cavalymen were killed, 70 were wounded and the fight was continuing. There was no report of enemy casualties.
2. Earlier before dawn the enemy raked the flight lines at the big Da Nang base with 45 of the big 122mm rockets, destroyed a $2-million Phantom jet and two light spotter planes, badly damaged two other spotter planes and a twin-engine C47 and did minor damage to 20 other aircraft. Four Americans were wounded in the 10-minute barrage and 19 others were injured as the sleepy airmen tumbled into the darkness and dashed for bunkers.
3. Six coordinated hit-and-run assaults raked South Vietnamese outposts within a 15-mile radius of Da Nang. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.
4. A combined U.S. Marine-South Vietnamese civic action platoon near Hoi An was overrun and all but wiped out. Seven of the Marines attached to the platoon were killed along with their Navy hospital corpsman and four more Marines were wounded. From 10 to 20 of the South Vietnamese militiamen unit were killed.
5. Three other Marine-South Vietnamese combined action platoons came under attack, including one less than five miles from Hue, the old imperial capital. Government casualties in the attack near Hue were reported moderate, meaning the government troops were hit hard. It was believed there were some Marine casualties also, but initial reports were sketchy.

Russell Evans, 720 1/2 S. Court St., and his son, William D. Evans, Route 4, contend in similar suits filed Tuesday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court that Edmiston maliciously and without cause filed charges of forgery against them in Chillicothe Municipal Court, April 13, 1967.

Each plaintiff is asking $75,000.

Gasoline Theft Investigated

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department is investigating the theft of gasoline from a truck owned by Pickaway Crop Service, Route 2.

Deputy George Linder was told the truck was parked at the warehouse of the firm noon Dec. 30 with a full tank of gasoline.

Tuesday morning, it was discovered an estimated three or four gallons of gasoline was taken from the truck. Two lengths of garden hose were found near the truck.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The frock coat and suit President Abraham Lincoln wore to Ford's Theater the night of his assassination is being sought by the Interior Department for display in the newly restored theater.

The problem is not where to find the garments, but how to match the price their present owner is asking: $50,000.

As reported by the Washington Post, the clothes were given to Alfonso Donn, a White House doorman, by the President's widow, Mary Todd Lincoln. They are presently owned by his granddaughter, Mrs. Marion J. Smith of North Carolina.

Mrs. Smith has offered to sell them to the government for inclusion in the Lincoln museum in Ford's Theater which is scheduled to resume live theatricals Jan. 21.

But so far, the Post reported, the Interior Department is unable either to get authorization to buy the garments or to find a patron to provide the money.

"We feel that these are the most important and meaningful Lincoln effects we could have," said Douglas H. Hubbard, an Interior Department official. "Our fear is that some private collector will buy them unless we are able to negotiate with Mrs. Smith and settle with her soon."

Stock Rally Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's 1968 rally continued early this afternoon despite more weakness among airline and gold mining issues. Trading was active.

Gains still outnumbered losses by a ratio of about 6 to 5—not much, but the gainers included some of the heavier weight blue chips.

The result was that the Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.85 at 908.69.

The pace of trading was somewhat heavier than it was on Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 325.1 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .5 and utilities up .4.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Ohio Solons Study Pending Measures For New Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess called in the lower chamber's committee chairmen today and Thursday to discuss legislation pending for the session convening Jan. 15.

Kurfess also said he plans discussions with Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami and John M. McElroy, administrative assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Leaders left pending about 80 bills culled from several hundred before the legislature recessed last August. Since then, other developments have added to the workloads — namely congressional redistricting and two major administration bond issues.

Administration and legislative spokesmen say some of the carried over bills may be scrapped. "Some were carried over for study and this doesn't mean they will be passed," McElroy said.

The governor's assistant said he hopes "top priority" will be given the bond issue and the redistricting proposal which resulted from a U.S. Supreme Court decision that knocked out Ohio's present congressional districts because of population inequities.

The administration has drafted a new redistricting proposal but it already has been attacked by incumbent congressmen and some legislature of both parties. This issue looms as a stumbling block in the session the administration hopes can be wrapped up in a month.

The governor within the past month unveiled his bond issue proposals calling for $700 million for highways and $265 for capital improvements. The latter includes $100 million for water pollution control to help implement a water management bill McElroy said "definitely" will get top priority.

Some of the major bills the administration and legislature leaders plan to discuss would require school boards to negotiate with majority teacher organizations, increase teacher and public employee retirement benefits, remove the statutory limitation on the number of highway patrolmen and determine size of the patrol by legislative appropriation, and permit school districts to levy an income tax.

Leaders expect to receive at the session a report from a select House committee studying tax deviation with an eye toward relief on property owners.

Mayor Holds Press Meet

Director Offices To Remain Open
Mayor Richard Gerhardt held the first of what he termed a "press conference" in his 113 S. Court St. law office Tuesday afternoon.

Gerhardt opened his conference with the announcement that tenure of city employees will be extended one month before new contracts are made.

Purpose of this delay, Gerhardt explained, is to give city employees time to apply for their present or new positions and to give him time to prepare the administration in what he termed "transition areas" of the city government.

Announcement of a new administrative procedure method for communications between the mayor and other city offices was made. The new procedure will be conducted by means of written memos and notes rather than by word-of-mouth.

No appointments to the offices of Safety or Service Director were made. The mayor stated that he would personally assume control of the two offices for the near future.

Harlow Arledge will serve under the mayor as acting supervisor of the service department for an unspecified period of time. Miller Fissell, past safety director, has not been maintained as acting director of that department. No reason was given for this decision.

City income tax was the subject of a question addressed to the new mayor. He replied that should the city's present funds, when combined with monies from the state and national governments, be insufficient to meet the city's needs the tax should be considered.

The Delphic Oracle

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Dwight Eisenhower, through one of those third person interviews which, in this case, substituted a "golfing crony" for the old Dodge of the "White House spokesman," spoke his lines on 1968 to reporter Felix Belair Jr. of the New York Times, and the Delphic Oracle in Greece has retired in confusion. "I know when I'm beat," said the Oracle in his most definite statement of 25 centuries.

Was Ike plugging the candidacy of "my boy" Richard Nixon? Well, no—but possibly yes. "Even if I had the power to name the next Republican Presidential nominee," he told the "golfing crony" (does Belair actually play golf?), "I would not necessarily select the man I thought best qualified to be President. . . I would like to see the convention pick a man who can win over Johnson next November."

Well, everyone knows that oracles other than the Delphic split 'em down the middle fellow have said "Nixon can't win." But Ike, presumably slicing one off to the right (though by no means as far as the birch woods), went on to give the back of his hand to George Romney of Michigan. "He sounds like a man in a panic," Ike said of George. If Nixon can't get prodigious mileage out of this statement in his forthcoming primary trek through the New Hampshire snows he is a lesser man than even his most serious detractors suppose he is. (Can't you see what the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader could do with the phrase, "panicky George"? So Ike has both knocked Nixon down and propped him up, and New Hampshire will tell which of the Eisenhower statements takes precedence. The Delphic Oracle, who was always right no matter what happened, could hardly have done better.

Eisenhower told one unnamed friend that he had a completely open mind about Nelson Rockefeller, but not so open that he would accept the "obvious political contrivance" of a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket. Since Rockefeller needs the support of conservatives to get the nomination, he would presumably have to take Reagan as his running mate as the price of success. So Ike's "open-mindedness" doesn't go so far as to endorse the "marriage of convenience" which would put Rockefeller over. As a military man, Eisenhower certainly has heard that old West Point axiom, "he who wills the end must also will the means." So where does Nelson Rockefeller come out when the "means" is a deal with the Reaganites?

And where does Ike leave Ronald Reagan? The "golfing crony" did not say, except by inference or implication, whichever way you want to take it. What Eisenhower did say to his crony was that "if any Republican or Democrat suggests that we pull out of Vietnam and turn our backs on the more than 13,000 Americans who died there in the cause of freedom, they will have me to contend with." This could rule out Senator Chuck Percy if his dove proclivities haven't been erased by the memory of those Viet-Cong bullets that recently flew over his head. But if Percy is out, does that mean that Reagan is in? Plotting it on a graph, you might say "yes." But Ike Eisenhower has been known to double-cross graphs in the past. Would he accept a "marriage of convenience" with Reagan for President and Rockefeller for Vice President?

Ike wants the Republican Presidential nomination to go to the man who seems most likely to win against President Johnson. But there are those who say that only a Republican dove has a chance of winning, and Ike, will, so he told his interviewer through the Third Party go-between, start stumping the country to defeat any "get-out-of-Vietnam" Republican. This means that Ike's preference must be for the nominee who will be hawkish enough to stick to Saigon even if it means a Republican defeat. This certainly limits the field—and puts it up to Nelson Rockefeller to avoid dovish extremes, though not to the extent of accepting the best-known Republican hawk as Vice President.

Well, is everything perfectly clear? The answer is that everything is clear if Nixon shows he can win; otherwise it's murky as a pea soup fog in November next door to the Consolidated Edison Company. That is what the Oracle is really saying as he drives out of the rough.

ONE OF THE most caustic and abrasive critics of his day was the late George Jean Nathan. After Mr. Nathan had lambasted one new musical comedy opening on Broadway, labeling the score "the dullest and most unoriginal in a dismal season," the outraged composer of said score secured some measure of revenge on a radio program the following evening. Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

When should a person who is partially hard of hearing wear a hearing aid?

Mrs. B.O.L., Colorado

Dear Mrs. L.: The key word in this question is "partially." As an ear, nose and throat specialist I am constantly made aware of the terms that people can create in order to avoid flatly saying, "I do not hear well at all times." Whether one says partially hard of hearing, partly deaf or slightly impaired hearing is not really important as a description of the severity of deafness.

There is only one real, mature, adult way to recognize deafness. When an individual has difficulty hearing sounds, full words, hearing on the telephone, the television and radio and does not have "happy hearing" at dinner parties or in the theater, they need some additional amplification of sound.

The old cliché, "It's not that I don't hear, but rather everybody whispers," is an easy way to avoid coming face-to-face with the problem.

The ideal way to handle a problem of deafness is first to be seen by an otologist, a specialist in the problems of the ear and hearing. A complete examination of the condition of the ears includes testing of the hearing with tuning forks and a pure tone audiometer. X-rays of the mastoids are sometimes helpful if chronic infection of the ears is present.

Using a watch tick as an index of hearing has no validity. There are many more accurate methods of testing. When necessary the otologist may refer the patient to a nearby hearing and speech center for even more highly technical studies to determine the exact nature of the deafness.

The American Hearing Society in Washington, D.C., has about 150 Leagues for the Hard of Hearing all over America. Frequently doctors make use of their services.

There are now many remarkable new operations which can be performed safely for the return of hearing. A specific condition called otosclerosis is a type of deafness which occurs in families and responds remarkably to one type of operation called stapes surgery.

Other operations for the repair of perforated ear drums can now return hearing to many people who have had chronic infections.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Few things have grown faster in the heady U.S. economic atmosphere since World War II than pension plans in private business.

Widely apart from Social Security or the federal government's military and civilian retirement programs, the private plans enrolled 23 million workers by 1965. These are about half the nation's private, non-agricultural employees. By 1980 it's estimated 43 million employees will be building up private retirement rights.

Even more spectacular has been the growth in pension plan assets—from $11 billion in 1946 to $135 billion in 1965. Some projections go as high as $450 billion for 1980.

Great. Or is it?

Among economists invited by a Senate-House economic subcommittee to contribute to a symposium on retirement systems there are some who saw a minus here and there among the social pluses in the development of old age pension programs. The figures cited here come from papers in the multi-volume compilation.

The very magnitude of the accumulated pension funds concerns some. If the funds now own 6 or 7 per cent of the national wealth, as is estimated, the proportion may soon be 10 per cent or more at current rates of increase.

Considered as current saving, contributions to pension funds—running at some $13 billion a year—amounted to more than 43 per cent of all private saving in 1965.

One school of thought suggests that at such a rate the country may be oversaving. If it is salting away more than can readily be invested in job-producing opportunities, the economy may be slowed and the government may be encouraged to run deficits to spur it.

Nonsense, says another school: Needs and opportunities for capital are in excess of savings.

One reason why pension plan holdings are growing so is the widespread feeling that they should be funded. This means that instead of simply promising an employee a pension when he reaches retirement age, the employer should put aside enough each year, in one way or another, to take care of the future pension claims accumulated during the year. In contributory plans, of course, the employees also put in something toward their future retirement. A fully funded plan offers reasonable security that, no matter if the company fails or some similar catastrophe occurs, the accumulated pension claims will be met.

In this sense, Social Security is not funded. Its reserves amount to only some two years' benefits, and some people criticize the governmental system on this ground. But Social Security officials say it would be preposterous to build up the monster reserves that would be required to fully fund the nearly-universal system.

They argue, and many economists agree, that the government with its taxing power is in quite a different situation from an private employer and can be counted on to pay the pensions its citizens have been promised.

One of the possible developments the subcommittee is exploring is an insurance plan that might give the spreading private pension system a stability somewhat approaching that of Social Security.

Movie on Strangler

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Latest of the real-life crimes to receive the film treatment is the saga of the Boston strangler, which begins production in Boston late this month.

Some critics have asked what films like "Bonnie and Clyde" and "In Cold Blood" prove, aside from the fact that today's audiences appear fascinated with violence and murder.

Richard Fleischer, who will be directing "The Boston Strangler," has an answer for his own film:

"I think the picture will offer a number of comments that could prove valuable. One, it will point out the violence that lies beneath the surface all around us; it will show the need to investigate the latent insanity that could erupt into violence at any time.

"Two, we'll depict the terrific effort of the police departments to track down a case of this nature. Nothing was left undone; even ESP and mind readers were employed in an effort to hunt the killer.

"Three, the picture will show a city in the grip of terror and what happens to people under such circumstances. Four, we will present the pitiable case of Albert DeSalvo, a classic case of schizophrenia. He was really two people: a man who was devoted to his home and family, and a ruthless killer. There are others like him who need help and they aren't getting it."

Fleischer will begin filming late this month in the Beacon Hill and Charles Street areas where the strangler operated. He'll shoot from five to six weeks in 40-50 different locations, then return here for interiors. None of the actual murder locations will be used.

"The landlords don't want the publicity; the tenants would move out if they knew the murders took place there," said the director. "But in some cases we will be filming next door to the scenes of the stranglings."

NEW YORK (AP) — This week NBC apparently wants to try to scare the great living room audience out of its armchairs.

Its Tuesday night movie was an English gem called "The Evil of Frankenstein." And its Saturday night movie will be Alfred Hitchcock's "The Birds."

The Frankenstein feature, made about four years ago, would have found it difficult to scare almost anyone. In the first place, it was obviously a low-budget, Grade B thriller.

And after two seasons of "The Munsters" on television, Frankenstein's monster has come to be regarded as a lovable, amusing old party.

The audience that stuck around to watch the monster clanking around the chateau missed the lively and illuminating annual discussion of world affairs by CBS senior correspondents.

Under the usual network rules, its correspondents report the news, explaining the background, but are restrained from expressing their own opinions. But in this first of two discussions—the next comes along next week—the five men who are stationed in trouble spots around the world are encouraged to editorialize.

The result was a gentlemanly and informed exchange that included many conflicting points of view, fluently expressed. The hour in its informality seemed like a fine conversation in a private home. It was unobtrusively steered by host Eric Sevareid.

The subjects moved from the state of America's influence in the world to the Vietnam impasse and a discussion of the Middle East.

Generally, the correspondents took a pretty dim view about the way the world is going.

With the football season behind, some old favorites will soon be turning up in Sunday afternoon and early evening network schedules.

Both "College Bowl" and "Animal Kingdom" come back next Sunday to NBC. The former will be celebrating the start of its 10th year.

NEW YORK (AP) —Everybody has been hoping for a better world in 1968, but nobody has been doing much about it.

The new year is already in its third day, and so far it doesn't look greatly different from last year. Any improvement is so slight as to be unnoticeable.

Perhaps this is because perfection, like charity, begins at home. Too many people have been resting on their oars, waiting for the other fellow to row them to a finer world.

If you are one of those laggards, perhaps it is simply a matter of human ignorance rather than laziness. You may not know how to go about improving the universe.

One way to go about it is to start by improving yourself, thereby setting an example for others to follow. How? Well why not begin by dropping a few of your bad faults and abstaining from hurtful or thoughtless actions that annoy you when others perform them?

Here, for example, are a few things you might consider giving up:

Breathing too deeply of fresh air. People who breathe too deeply throw back too much carbon dioxide into the atmosphere and thus dilute the amount of oxygen available to the rest of mankind.

Backbiting at the office. Sooner or later you are likely to backbite the wrong guy and wind up sorry—and unemployed.

Talking back to motorcycle cops. A policeman's lot is not a happy one. If you are rude to a policeman, you may force him into writing you out a traffic ticket, thus probably ruining his whole day.

Telling your troubles to a bartender. This may lead him into telling you his troubles, and then both your hearts will be bowed down with a double woe.

Giving free advice. It is demoralizing to the character of anyone to give him something for nothing. Make him give back value for value. If he says, "A penny for your thoughts," hold out for a nickel or a dime. Then he's bound to respect you more. Anyway, thoughts that aren't worth more than a penny are better kept to one's self.

The Delphic Oracle

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Dwight Eisenhower, through one of those third person interviews which, in this case, substituted a "golfing crony" for the old Dodge of the "White House spokesman," spoke his lines on 1968 to reporter Felix Belair Jr. of the New York Times, and the Delphic Oracle in Greece has retired in confusion. "I know when I'm beat," said the Oracle in his most definite statement of 25 centuries.

Was Ike plugging the candidacy of "my boy" Richard Nixon? Well, no—but possibly yes. "Even if I had the power to name the next Republican Presidential nominee," he told the "golfing crony" (does Belair actually play golf?), "I would not necessarily select the man I thought best qualified to be President. . . I would like to see the convention pick a man who can win over Johnson next November."

Well, everyone knows that oracles other than the Delphic split-'em-down-the-middle have said "Nixon can't win." But Ike, presumably slicing one off to the right (though by no means as far as the birch woods), went on to give the back of his hand to George Romney of Michigan. "He sounds like a man in a panic," Ike said of George. If Nixon can't get prodigious mileage out of this statement in his forthcoming primary trek through the New Hampshire snows he is a lesser man than even his most serious detractors suppose he is. (Can't you see what the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader could do with the phrase, "panicky George"? So Ike has both knocked Nixon down and propped him up, and New Hampshire will tell which of the Eisenhower statements takes precedence. The Delphic Oracle, who was always right no matter what happened, could hardly have done better.

Eisenhower told one unnamed friend that he had a completely open mind about Nelson Rockefeller, but not so open that he would accept the "obvious political contrivance" of a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket. Since Rocky needs the support of conservatives to get the nomination, he would presumably have to take Reagan as his running mate as the price of success. So Ike's "open-mindedness" doesn't go so far as to endorse the "marriage of convenience" which would put Rockefeller over. As a military man, Eisenhower certainly has heard that old West Point axiom, "he who wills the end must also will the means." So where does Nelson Rockefeller come out when the "means" is a deal with the Reaganites?

And where does Ike leave Ronald Reagan? The "golfing crony" did not say, except by inference or implication, whichever way you want to take it. What Eisenhower did say to his crony was that "if any Republican or Democrat suggests that we pull out of Vietnam and turn our backs on the more than 13,000 Americans who died there in the cause of freedom, they will have me to contend with." This could rule out Senator Chuck Percy if his dove proclivities haven't been erased by the memory of those Viet-Cong bullets that recently flew over his head. Would he accept a "marriage of convenience" with Reagan for President and Rockefeller for Vice President?

Ike wants the Republican Presidential nomination to go to the man who seems most likely to win against President Johnson. But there are those who say that only a Republican dove has a chance of winning, and Ike, will, so he told his interviewer through the Third Party go-between, start stumping the country to defeat any "get-out-of-Vietnam" Republican. This means that Ike's preference must be for the nominee who will be hawkish enough to stick to Saigon even if it means a Republican defeat. Hearing aid manufacturers and their distributors have become very important members of the health team. They are no longer hearing aid salesmen whose only purpose is to sell an instrument. Too often, in the past, people who could least afford to buy an instrument were pressured into the sale, only to find that the instrument finally landed unused in the drawer or closet. The disappointment is greater than the financial loss. That disappointment is overwhelming when the expected "hearing happiness" did not occur.

Today the people who are selling the instrument will do so only if the hearing aid effectively contributes to an increase in hearing. They are guided by the awareness that they have a great responsibility for the emotional and physical benefits of a well-fitted hearing aid.

All children have "special ears" that hear the fears and anxieties of their parents. Never believe that they are out of hearing distance.

But Social Security officials say it would be preposterous to build up the monster reserves that would be required to fully fund the nearly-universal system.

They argue, and many economists agree, that the government with its taxing power is in quite a different situation from an private employer and can be counted on to pay the pensions its citizens have been promised.

One of the possible developments the subcommittee is exploring is an insurance plan that might give the spreading private pension system a stability somewhat approaching that of Social Security.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Every body has been hoping for a better world in 1968, but nobody has been doing much about it.

The new year is already in its third day, and so far it doesn't look greatly different from last year. Any improvement is so slight as to be unnoticeable.

Perhaps this is because perfection, like charity, begins at home. Too many people have been resting on their oars, waiting for the other fellow to row them to a finer world.

If you are one of those lagards, perhaps it is simply a matter of human ignorance rather than laziness. You may not know how to go about improving the universe.

One way to go about it is to start by improving yourself, thereby setting an example for others to follow. How? Well why not begin by dropping a few of your bad faults and abstaining from hurtful or thoughtless actions that annoy you when others perform them?

Here, for example, are a few things you might consider giving up:

Breathing too deeply of fresh air. People who breathe too deeply throw back too much carbon dioxide into the atmosphere and thus dilute the amount of oxygen available to the rest of mankind.

Backbiting at the office. Sooner or later you are likely to backbite the wrong guy and wind up sorry—and unemployed.

Talking back to motorcycle cops. A policeman's lot is not a happy one. If you are rude to a policeman, you may force him into writing you out a traffic ticket, thus probably ruining his whole day.

Telling your troubles to a bartender. This may lead him into telling you his troubles, and then both your hearts will be bowed down with a double woe.

Giving free advice. It is demoralizing to the character of anyone to give him something for nothing. Make him give back value for value. If he says, "A penny for your thoughts," hold out for a nickel or a dime. Then he's bound to respect you more. Anyway, thoughts that aren't worth more than a penny are better kept to one's self.

Taking sides in other people's family quarrels. No matter which side you take in any family fuss, the historical odds are 99 to 1 that you will end up being regarded as an enemy by the party of the first part as well as the party of the second part. If you remain neutral, however, neither side will really hate you—they'll both just think you're wishy-washy, which in these situations is about the best you can expect.

Drawing to an inside straight while playing a game of friendly poker. This will only make you a personal statistic in the national poverty program, which is already tough enough.

Criticizing your wife. No husband with any real common sense tries to improve his wife by criticizing her, but that doesn't keep a lot of them from trying. They inevitably wind up in the doghouse. Peace can be kept in the home only by the realization that women correct their faults, if any, through their own intuition. Outside suggestions have no effect on them.

By following these simple tips you may not be able to remodel the world entirely to your heart's desire in 1968. But they will help keep you alive and sane, so that in 1969 you can do an even better job.

Life in Panama Canal Zone Not Idyllic

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
Associated Press Writer

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone (AP) — Puffing on the day's fifth cigar, Raymond Kielhofer used two small, darkly-veined hands to lift a 9,000-ton Russian freighter.

He saw the Novorossiysk's captain wave from the bridge while women crew members flashed broad, pletarian smiles from the railing.

Down here you lift boats by moving four chromed knobs on a long horizontal panel. This puts in motion a $72-million-a-year operation involving two giant man made lakes, some 20,000 civilians, 28,000 troops, two governments and, once in a while, a lot of angry dispute.

Kielhofer is senior control house operator on the Panama Canal locks which pass 13,000 ships a year on their way to and from the great oceans.

His job is filling and emptying vast concrete chambers, 1,000 feet long by 110 feet wide, to a depth of 42 feet with 22 million gallons of water. That's how ships are lifted or lowered, 27 feet. It takes longer to empty some bath tubs than to fill one canal chamber—eight minutes flat.

How this is done is just one of the samples of the engineering marvel the Panama Canal represents even in the space age. Now in its 54th year, the thin, 50-mile waterway between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans is operated with mostly the same equipment that went into it at an initial cost of $380 million in 1914.

Kielhofer is one of some 50,000 U.S. citizens in the Canal Zone related, one way or another, to the canal's operation. In many ways he's a typical "Zonian."

He puts in an 8 to 4 day in a small two-story control house on a concrete island in the middle of the steamy locks. He makes more than $10,000 a year and lives the quiet life of his suburban stateside kin, except that his expenses are about 10-15 per cent less.

He came to the Canal Zone in 1940 "for two years," he says with a grin, and stayed.

For the last 10 years, Kielhofer has been a senior operator raising and lowering ships through the locks. Error and disaster are ever present dangers.

Through a miscalculation, a carrier's overhanging deck once sheared off steel lightpoles imbedded alongside a canal lock.

Water, the canal's lifeblood, is one of its more serious problems. In Panama the rainy season normally runs eight months. Water is stored in two great artificial lakes created by damming a river. An extended dry season, lowering the lake levels, can be troublesome. Water conservation measures are then imposed to maintain the steady flow needed to operate the locks that raise ships 85 feet above sea level, through a shallow mountain range, in order to get them from one ocean to the other.

Earth slides are another headache. More earth has been removed in the 54 years since the canal was finished than in all the digging to build it.

A third problem is shipping. The waterway is still some distance from becoming obsolete.

More than 300 ships now are too big to get through the locks; 900 others cannot make it across fully loaded.

The most discussed alternative is a new sea-level canal route through Panama or a neighboring country.

Panama wants a larger voice in canal operations and the elimination of the zone concept in its present form. A new treaty, considerably altering the old one, was negotiated earlier this year, but it has been shelved in Panama after much political sniping.

The zone, a 10-mile wide, 50-mile long strip of lush tropical green sandwiched in the middle of the Republic of Panama, is the only home many Americans have known.

"It bothers me," said Kielhofer, the boat lifter, speaking of the fading American presence here. "The canal's too important a thing to give away."

Lengthy Problem

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., (AP) — How short is too short? Referring to skirts. And how long is too long? Meaning boys' hair. School principals in Williamsport examined the problems and agreed that questions involving the long and shorts should be handled with the pupil by a guidance counselor. And if that doesn't work—call in the parents, they say.

Dodge, the United States Defense Department spacecraft, was the most sophisticated of the 250 American satellites in orbit as of November 1967. Dodge carries spare parts and can repair itself electronically.

Let's talk about budgets!

Budgeting is tough these days. It seems that every time you turn around the cost of something is going up. The economists tell us it's to be expected. Maybe so, but it sure makes running a home difficult.

If your New Year's plans included a resolve to "do" something about home decor, perhaps one of the ideas given here will ring a bell:

Applied for interest: If you are making your own cafe curtains or bedspread, order a little extra fabric and use cut-outs of the pattern to applique a window shade, a cornice, even a table with decorative interest.

Fringe it off: Use fringe or braid to give a "finished" look to cafe curtains, draperies or valance. Choose fringe in a color that matches or provides harmonious contrast.

Make your own: Create decorative "shutters" by tacking flat herringbone tape — it resembles carpet tape but has a finer texture — to a wood frame.

Kitchen caper: Add color to the kitchen with a quick paint job. Use one of the new water base paints. It need not be mixed with turpentine so therefore it won't irritate hands. What's more, water base enamel dries in a few hours and is virtually free of odor.

Accordion Pleats? Dress a window with a homemade accordion-pleated shade. A traverse cord and brass pulleys are used to make it move up and down quickly. Instructions for making such a shade are found in the Fall-Winter issue of "1,001 Decorating Ideas" which is available at sewing counters and magazine stands.

Flower power: Be hip and add a floral print, one that's zingy and singy with color to a room that's dark, drab and suffering from winter doldrums. Look for sunny flower prints glowing with yellow and orange in fabric and wall coverings. Let them set your scheme, then use matching solid shades to accessorize the new bright spot.

Pegged for perfection: Create more storage space in the kitchen by putting up pegboard. It now comes in a variety of colors and is plastic-coated so it's easy to clean. Use it to hang pots, cups and utensils of all kinds so they will be efficiently and conveniently at your service when you need them.

Counter move: Don't like the color of your present kitchen counter tops? Cover them with adhesive-backed plastic in the color and pattern of your choice. But be sure to get the heavy-duty kind that's designed just for counter top installation.

Big Ski Base

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — The ski areas in Bob Koons' home state usually have a good snow base but nothing like where he's skiing now. Koons, of Waterville, wrote home that he is spending his time skiing on six inches of powder "on 8,500 feet of base." Koons is with the U.S. Antarctic research program at Byrd Station—600 miles from the South Pole.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Parents' Approval Always Wise Move

DEAR ABBY: First of all I want you to know that I'm 14, but am very mature for my age. Most people think I am 18. Anyway, the evening before Thanksgiving, our high school had a basketball game. Most of the kids always go for a coke and stay around town for a while after the game. I had never done this but that night I felt like it, so I told my 10-year-old brother to tell my folks that I would be staying around town afterwards. (I couldn't find my parents to tell them myself.)

Well, I came home at 11:45 p.m. and the way my folks carried on you would have thought I had committed some kind of crime or something. You should see the list of punishments they gave me. No dances or parties until 1968. Not even for Christmas. And I can't talk to my best friend on the phone until 1968. I am not a run-around, do not date, and do not have a bad record. I can't figure out what I did that was so wrong, can you?

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Telling your brother (or anyone else, for that matter) to convey a message is not the same as asking for—and getting—permission.

Since you never before had your parents approval to "stay around town" after the game, perhaps they feel that you didn't try harder to find them because you feared they might have said no.

DEAR ABBY: After going with a guy for four years, we are now officially engaged to be married in four months. He has always been fickle, and he excuses it all by saying that he is just a guy who likes girls.

With our wedding date set, he still cheats on me. I know he does because I have the proof, and when he can't lie out of it, he admits it. Then he says he isn't married yet, which is true, of course, but I still don't like it.

He has no good reason to chase after other girls because I can give him as much affection as he wants. What do you think?

ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: I think you are engaged to a guy who "likes girls"—and always will. Either get used to it, or get rid of him.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who is not yet four years old, must wear a patch over one eye in order to make his "lazy" eye work harder, and thus improve his vision.

Abby, would you believe that not one day goes by without the boy being approached by perfect strangers who ask with a horrified gasp, "What happened to your eye, little boy?"

I realize that most people don't mean any harm, they are just curious, but all the same the child is developing a complex over this.

Please, please tell people that it hurts enough to see one's child with an impediment without having others add insult to injury.

AN AVID FAN

DEAR FAN: Thank you for writing. You said it very well. Curious strangers would do well to remember that all obvious scars, blemishes, deformities and disabilities of others should be ignored. And to ask questions pertaining to them is not only unkind, but in the worst possible taste.

Train Derails

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Eighteen cars of a New York Central, freight left the tracks Tuesday night in a derailment in Brookfield Township, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported. Cause was unknown.

John Dunlap Will Speak To Garden Club

Mr. John H. Dunlap will be the guest speaker when the Pickaway County Garden Club meets January 9.

The 8 p.m. program will be held in the Presbyterian Church. A dessert course will precede the program.

Mrs. John Esheleman will serve as chairman for the hostess committee.

Former Protocol Chief Is Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Services will be held Friday for John Farr Simmons who was the nation's official greeter of visiting royalty and foreign dignitaries during seven years of the Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

Simmons, U.S. chief of protocol from 1950 to 1957, died Monday after a long illness. He would have been 76 today.

Slate Autopsy On Cincy Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police said an autopsy would be conducted upon the body of Frank Martin, 52, found Tuesday morning lying between two parked cars near Carthage Fairgrounds here.

Employees of Longview Hospital here positively identified the body as that of Martin, and said he recently escaped from the hospital.

Quints' Dad May Lose Cash

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — The father of Australia's first quintuplets insured with Lloyds of London against a multiple birth—but he doesn't know whether he will get $400.

A clause in the policy said that it would be invalid if the children were born more than six weeks before the stipulated date. The quintuplets were born Sunday, six weeks and a few days prematurely.

Their father, Roger Braham, 34, said today that his wife, Patricia Mary, 36, had twins a year ago and when she became pregnant again, he insured against a multiple birth, he said he was thinking in terms of another set of twins and insured for $400 to help meet the extra expenses. The possibility of quintuplets never entered his head, he said.

'Ceremony of Ignorance' Strong, Compelling Drama

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—A Strong and compelling drama, "The Ceremony of Innocence," opened New Year's night at the American Place Theater.

The story takes place in pre-Conquest England when Danish raiders posed a military menace that set earls against king and unleashed bloody hatreds.

But the rough costume and rude settings are purposefully thin disguises of matters as vital and unsolved in 1968 as in the year 1013.

Playwright Ronald Ribman skillfully weaves the theatrical tapestry, measures out dialogue with sparse forcefulness and demonstrates dramatic growth since two previous plays that won much praise.

The central figure is Etheled, a most reluctant monarch who historically lost his crown to the Vikings in feuding. Here he emerges as an idealist, striving to found a serene Utopia though beset by barbaric, selfish courtiers, and a wife and mother not averse to murder.

Cleveland Council Chief Against Bonds

CLEVELAND (AP)—Opposition to Gov. James A. Rhodes' $700 million highway bond issue in its present form has been expressed by City Council President James V. Stanton.

In opposing the plan, Stanton is lined up opposite Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who told the governor last month he would support the highway bond issue.

Stanton said Tuesday he might change his opinion if Rhodes changes the formula for using the bond funds.

Rhodes' proposal calls for giving $275 million to counties and cities, based on population with Cuyahoga County getting about $45 million.

Stanton pointed out that Cuyahoga County contributes nearly 25 per cent of the gasoline taxes collected by the state. The tax money would be used to pay off the bonds.

"We will have to pay between $175 and $200 million of the total bonded indebtedness, according to figures of the governmental research institute," Stanton said.

"If a minimum of 85 per cent of the Cuyahoga tax contributions on gasoline would be spent where it was collected all the citizens of the county could support the program."

Paintings Are Found

COVINGTON, Ky., (AP)—Six paintings by Frank Duveneck, stolen recently from a public library art gallery, were in the hands of police today.

The paintings by Duveneck, internationally known 19th Century artist who was born here, were found Tuesday night in a rear yard of a house just 24 hours after they were reported stolen.

Police said they were holding a man for questioning.

Police reported they received an anonymous phone call tipping them as to where the paintings, part of a 19-painting collection insured for about $22,000, could be found.

They were found near garbage cans and were wrapped in a blanket. Officials said two paintings were slightly damaged.

New Industry Set in Huron

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes and state development Director F. P. Neuschwander will join Huron officials next Monday in welcoming executives of a new industry to Huron.

The Industrial Products Division of the Corn Products Co. will take over industrial facilities on a 20-acre site along the Huron River. Manufacturing operations are to start in the spring of 1969.

Company officials are expected to disclose initial production plans during Monday's meeting.

Fishing Burglar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police netted a fishing burglar suspect Tuesday. Police said he used a bamboo pole and a hook made from a windshield wiper to pull several thousand dollars worth of women's apparel through a hole in a store ceiling.

where he has fled savagely, the king is summoned by bishop and lords. As he ponders the decision to fight anew, the play unravels in a sustained flashback which intensifies the tragic inevitability of the conclusion.

The production, as seen in its final preview, has been brilliantly staged by Arthur A. Seidel.

'Ceremony of Innocence' Strong, Compelling Drama

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—A Strong and compelling drama, "The Ceremony of Innocence," opened New Year's night at the American Place Theater.

The story takes place in pre-Conquest England when Danish raiders posed a military menace that set earls against king and unleashed bloody hatreds.

But the rough costume and rude settings are purposefully thin disguises of matters as vital and unsolved in 1968 as in the year 1013.

Playwright Ronald Ribman skillfully weaves the theatrical tapestry, measures out dialogue with sparse forcefulness and demonstrates dramatic growth since two previous plays that won much praise.

The central figure is Eihelred, a most reluctant monarch who historically lost his crown to the Vikings in feuding. Here he emerges as an idealist, striving to found a serene Utopia though beset by barbaric, selfish courtiers, and a wife and mother not averse to murder.

Cleveland Council Chief Against Bonds

CLEVELAND (AP)—Opposition to Gov. James A. Rhodes' $700 million highway bond issue in its present form has been expressed by City Council President James V. Stanton.

In opposing the plan, Stanton is lined up opposite Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who told the governor last month he would support the highway bond issue.

Stanton said Tuesday he might change his opinion if Rhodes changes the formula for using the bond funds.

Rhodes' proposal calls for giving $275 million to counties and cities, based on population with Cuyahoga County getting about $45 million.

Stanton pointed out that Cuyahoga County contributes nearly 25 per cent of the gasoline taxes collected by the state. The tax money would be used to pay off the bonds.

"We will have to pay between $175 and $200 million of the total bonded indebtedness, according to figures of the governmental research institute," Stanton said.

"If a minimum of 85 per cent of the Cuyahoga tax contributions on gasoline would be spent where it was collected all the citizens of the county could support the program."

Paintings Are Found

COVINGTON, Ky., (AP)—Six paintings by Frank Duveneck, stolen recently from a public library art gallery, were in the hands of police today.

The paintings by Duveneck, internationally known 19th Century artist who was born here, were found Tuesday night in a rear yard of a house just 24 hours after they were reported stolen.

Police said they were holding a man for questioning.

Police reported they received an anonymous phone call tipping them as to where the paintings, part of a 19-painting collection insured for about $22,000, could be found.

They were found near garbage cans and were wrapped in a blanket. Officials said two paintings were slightly damaged.

New Industry Set in Huron

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes and state development Director F. P. Neuschwander will join Huron officials next Monday in welcoming executives of a new industry to Huron.

The Industrial Products Division of the Corn Products Co. will take over industrial facilities on a 20-acre site along the Huron River. Manufacturing operations are to start in the spring of 1969.

Company officials are expected to disclose initial production plans during Monday's meeting.

Fishing Burglar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police netted a fishing burglar suspect Tuesday. Police said he used a bamboo pole and a hook made from a windshield wiper to pull several thousand dollars worth of women's apparel through a hole in a store ceiling.

where he has fled savagery, the king is summoned by bishop and lords. As he ponders the decision to fight anew, the play unravels in a sustained flashback which intensifies the tragic inevitability of the conclusion.

The production, as seen in its final version, has been brilliantly staged by Arthur A. Seidel.

man. The exceptional cast includes Donald Madden, as Ethelred; William Devane and Dolph Sweet, chief advisors typifying reason versus force; Ralph Clanton, a prelate carefully balancing justice with expediency.

As the daughter left as treaty hostage by the Danish king, Sandy Duncan gives a portrayal of enthralling sensitivity. The expertly devised open stage settings are by Kert Lundell, the evocative costuming by Willa Kim.

Taking its title from a William Butler Yeats poem, the drama matches intense feeling with acknowledgement, if not acceptance of the ways of the world. It is a theatrical gem.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Thompson, Karen, Mona and Steve returned home Friday night after spending the holidays in Florida. They visited Miami and St. Petersburg and the Buesch and Cyprus Gardens. On Christmas Day they visited the Sunk-en Gardens and viewed a display of wax figures that depicted the Last Supper, the Resurrection of Christ and many other scenes. The figures took one of the residents over five years to make.

The family also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Seymour. On their return home they visited Cumberland Falls in Georgia.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance returned Mrs. Emma Whitt to her home from Berger Hospital on Jan. 1.

Each resident attending was presented a shoe box which had been gaily decorated by Girl Scout Troop No. 238. The boxes were many, many personal gifts and candy and fruit.

Refreshments of Christmas cookies, sandwiches and punch were served from a decorated tea table. The residents thanked those helping with the party many times for the wonderful time they had.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover spent the holidays in Arizona visiting with their daughter, Peggy and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Drum.

Sugar Cane Choppers Lose Strike Fight

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP) — Eighty sugar cane choppers were flown back to their island homes in Jamaica today and 52 more were jailed after riot squads intervened in a pay dispute Tuesday at a remote sugar plantation in the Florida Everglades.

Palm Beach County Sheriff William Heidman said the workers had threatened to destroy their labor camp "if certain demands were not met by pay time."

Fifty-two were held under $11,500 bail each, charged with inciting to riot and unlawful assembly.

Dan Bradley, a representative of the federally financed Migration Legal Services Program Inc., an antipoverty agency, said most of the 360 cane cutters—covered with soot from routine burmoffs of the field—balked at working and claimed they were asked to cut twice as much cane as the pay covered.

"Want more money, mon! Want more money, mon!" they chanted in their Calypso accent.

The workers, about 9,000 of them imported each year from the British West Indies for one of the dirtiest jobs in American agriculture, are paid according to their production but federal law requires they receive at least $1.45 per hour. Bradley said many deductions are made from the pay including about $2

Protests over Romney's Absence Rise in Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Shortly after Michigan Gov. George Romney left on his four-week world tour, Lt. Gov. William Milliken, filling in for Romney's absence, was asked how he liked the governor's office.

Milliken replied: "I think it's a nice place to visit, but I'm not sure yet whether I'd want to live here."

Also, how he liked it nearly four weeks later, on the eve of Romney's return, Milliken said in jest: "It's fine. I like it. I'm going to come back from time to time."

If this fall and winter are any indication, Milliken will be back quite a bit.

Milliken has filled in for Romney numerous times since first being elected in 1964.

But his stints as acting governor have increased sharply since Romney launched his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Romney has been away frequently in recent months, twice on long trips. Early last fall he made an extended tour of the nation's riot areas. Tonight he returns from his world tour.

During the governor's absence, the lieutenant governor becomes acting governor and assumes full constitutional powers.

Romney's absence has drawn criticism from a number of Democratic legislators. They a day for room and board and 15 per cent for mandatory savings.

wanted him to stay in Lansing and fight for the state's highly controversial open housing bill.

During Romney's tour of riot areas, a four-man delegation of Democrats met him in New York and other places and appealed for his return.

Letters to the editor in Detroit newspapers also have criticized Romney for paying too little attention to running the state.

The open housing measure, placed by Romney on the agenda of a special legislative session between Thanksgiving and Christmas, failed in the House of Representatives and never got to the Senate.

Milliken said he believes Romney "will be here and will continue to work" for open housing during the regular session.

Romney's Washington campaign headquarters says the governor is scheduled to fly to New Hampshire, site of the nation's first primary, on Jan. 11 after delivering his "state of the state" message.

Campaign plans reportedly include New Hampshire trips on Jan. 12-17, Jan. 25-27 and tentatively again Feb. 5-7.

Associated Press Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, already a million-dollar-plus fund raiser for the Republican party, is collecting the kind of political IOU's that helped Richard M. Nixon and Barry Goldwater win presidential nominations.

From traditionally Republican Iowa to new GOP country in the Old South, party chairmen beam with delight when they land the California governor for fund-raising dinners. He is one of the biggest draws in Republican history—the all-time champ," according to Chairman James Halley of the California Republican Central Committee.

Reagan will test his appeal in the heartland of the East—the Establishment of Dewey, Wilkie and Eisenhower—on a tour next month of New York, Pennsylvania and Washington, D.C.

The name Reagan to date has meant money to hard-pressed party finance officials in Oregon, Seattle, Houston, Dallas, Des Moines, Milwaukee and Columbia, S.C. Gratitude for similar favors created blocs of loyal national convention delegates for Nixon in 1960 and Goldwater in 1964.

Reagan keeps insisting he is not a candidate and hopes only to head a "favorite son" delegation from California to the 1968 convention.

In answer to questions at a Dec. 19 news conference, Reagan conceded that the backing of conservative Republicans who want him to run for president is "gratifying, there is no question about that."

He added, however: "My position hasn't changed at all. I'm not a candidate."

Nevertheless, the remark by Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon that Reagan is "the hottest political property around" is becoming a favorite saying among Reagan watchers.

In dollar terms, Reagan raised nearly $1.4 million in September and October for depleted GOP coffers, says Tom Reed, a wealthy 33-year-old former appointments secretary who handles the governor's out-of-state political contacts.

National speech-making tours are described by Reagan as "party chores that should be done." He is well aware that such ventures heighten speculation they are fronts for a full-scale campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

Reed refuses to reveal how much Reagan is paid for appearing at party events on the ground that it's a private matter, but he denies as "absolutely false" a report that Reagan got $15,000 for a Milwaukee speech in September.

All Reagan's appearance fees go into a special trust fund set up within the California Republican party strictly to finance the governor's out-of-state political trips, Reed said.

Reed says he expects the fund to break even for 1967, but if there is a surplus, it will be refunded to states where Reagan has appeared on "a fair and equitable basis" to be determined by Reagan.

Reed refuses to reveal how much Reagan is paid for appearing at party events on the ground that it's a private matter, but he denies as "absolutely false" a report that Reagan got $15,000 for a Milwaukee speech in September.

All Reagan's appearance fees go into a special trust fund set up within the California Republican party strictly to finance the governor's out-of-state political trips, Reed said.

Reed says he expects the fund to break even for 1967, but if there is a surplus, it will be refunded to states where Reagan has appeared on "a fair and equitable basis" to be determined by Reagan.

Overdue Books Are Returned

CHICAGO (AP) — Thousands of delinquent books were back home today, including one missing for 33 years.

Tuesday was the Chicago Public Library system's first amnesty day, when conscience-stricken book borrowers could turn over a new leaf and return an overdue volume without having to pay the usual 2-cent-a-day fine.

And the books were returned—in shoe boxes, attache cases, shopping bags and packing crates—to the 62 branch libraries.

A copy of William Makepeace Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," checked out in 1934, was brought home by a relative of its deceased borrower. The volume was brown with age but still in lending condition.

Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Tuesday two Marines from Ohio—Cpl. Albert L. Horner of Kenton and Pfc. Gary W. Martell of Strongsville, have been killed in action in Vietnam.

How the Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau forecast for Ohio:

Travelers warning were in effect today after freezing drizzle fell throughout central and southern Ohio during the night and spread over the northeast before dawn.

Temperatures were relatively warm overnight, readings were generally 20 to 30 degrees higher than on Monday night, with most readings in the middle and upper 20s. Close to the Ohio River some temperatures were in the lower and middle 30s.

The warmest spot in the state at 5 a.m. was Chesapeake, with 35, closely followed by Cincinnati with 33. Coolest was Findlay and Youngstown, with readings of 24.

A cold front extended from south-central Lower Michigan through eastern Indiana was moving slowly eastward today. It was to pass through Ohio today, and in its wake temperatures will start to drop. By Thursday morning, readings will be in the teens. Not much warming is forecast for Thursday.

FORECASTS

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Occasional light freezing drizzle becoming mixed with then changing to occasional light snow this afternoon or evening. Cloudy and colder tonight with intermittent light snow, lows 13-18. Thursday cloudy and colder with chance of snow flurries.

CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy and colder with intermittent light snow, lows 13-18. Thursday 10. Thursday cloudy and colder with chance of snow flurries.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Mostly cloudy with chance of snow flurries and much colder tonight, low 7-12. Partly cloudy, chance of a few snow flurries north and colder Thursday, high 17-22.

Marriage Costs In Conflict

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The cost of marriage went down in Idaho this week. Or did it?

The state's new commercial code, passed by the 1967 legislature, was effective Jan. 1 and sets marriage license costs at $3.

However, the same legislature's new marriage law—effective last May—retains the old fee of $4.75 per marriage license.

Idaho Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard has been asked to rule on the snafu. In the meantime, most county officials in the state say they plan to ignore the commercial code's $3 stipulation in favor of the higher rate.

Final Toll 376

CHICAGO (AP) — Final tabulations showed 376 persons lost their lives during the three-day New Year holiday weekend. The count of fatalities started at 6 p.m. local time Friday and ended at midnight Monday. The National Safety Council had predicted from 460 to 540 persons would be killed.

Dollar Strong On Markets In Europe

LONDON (AP) — The dollar moved up strongly in both London and Paris today in the wake of President Johnson's bid to get U.S. foreign accounts out of the red.

A presidential envoy in a whirlwind visit to London gave the British government a detailed explanation of Johnson's move to slash the dollar drain and then flew on to Bonn for talks with Willy Brandt, West German foreign minister.

U.S. Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach had arrived before dawn from Washington at the head of a mission sent to brief European governments on the implications of the monetary measures.

In the London stock market, shares of hotels and restaurants and other issues connected with tourists slumped sharply because of Johnson's efforts to curtail overseas travel by Americans.

In Paris the dollar rose 55 points to 4.9140 francs and in London it rose 30 points to 2.40325 pounds.

The American cutbacks will mean a loss to Britain of about $120 million a year, but the message is more dire still for Common Market countries, especially West Germany, which are faced with a flat moratorium on U.S. investment.

Eugene V. Rostow, another U.S. undersecretary of state, explains the stringent new measures to Japanese officials, including Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, today and then heads for Australia to explain the measures there.

Group Sets Riot Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House Judiciary Committee will meet here Friday to review testimony on proposals to combat civil disorders, Chairman Robert E. Levitt R-91 Canton, Stark, reported today.

Levitt expressed hope that the committee will come up with proposals for consideration by the legislature at its recess session opening Jan. 15.

Committee members received recommendations from witnesses at hearings in Cleveland, Toledo, Cincinnati and Columbus.

League Games Highlight Weekend Cage Action

A big weekend is on tap in the Scioto Valley Conference with the three main league contenders in action.

Defending co-champions Laurelville and Logan Elm play on the Wildcats' floor. The limited seating capacity of the Laurelville gymnasium is expected to be filled by the time the reserve game starts at 7 p.m.

On Saturday night, league favorite Westfall hosts Unioto, an upset winner over Laurelville in a game played on the Sherman's floor. The score of the game was 76-73.

Laurelville has a 1-1 record in the SVC, having defeated Piketon earlier in the season. Clyde Crewsey's Wildcats need a victory in Friday's game to stay in contention for the title in the six-team league. Overall they have a 7-5 record.

THE Conference plays only one round of games. Logan Elm's only outing in league play has been at Paint Valley, where the Braves posted a 50-36 victory. The Braves lost a non-league game to Westfall. The other loss on the Braves' record was to Grandview, an undefeated class AA school.

Both teams show balanced scoring, although Laurelville has exhibited a little more of offensive punch.

The leaders of the Wildcat scoring are senior center Bob Bowers who is averaging 18.9 points per game, and Mike Kneese, a junior guard with a 17 point per game average.

The top two point makers for the Braves are Royce Woolever, their 6-8 center, with 15 per game, and sophomore guard Danny Fausnaugh with 12 per game.

The two teams met in the Zane Trace Holiday tournament with the Wildcats posting a 73-50 victory.

Mike Chestnut, who exploded for 35 points in that game, has been lost to the Wildcat team for the remainder of the season according to reports from Laurelville. But the Wildcats have the home floor advantage and they have not lost at home this year.

LOGAN Elm coach Chuck Pritchard felt a lack of hustle on the part of his cagers contributed to the loss in the holiday event.

They bounced back from their loss with an improved performance and a victory over Huntington High School.

Fans from both schools probably remember last year when the Braves won handily in the holiday tournament, as the Wildcats did this year, but then were barely able to win in double overtime in the following conference game.

Westfall has been idle since a Dec. 22 loss to Southeastern High School of Ross County. It is the only blemish on the Mustangs' record this season.

Unioto and Westfall present interesting contrasts. The Mustangs began the season with four returning starters in Andy Hamman, Charles Palmer, both seniors; Ed Cornwell and Tony Lightle, both juniors.

Senior Denny Fletcher was filling the fifth position on the team until the Southeastern game when Gene Carfrey won a starting chance.

UNIOTO coach Don Heff, who guided Circleville High School to its last South Central Ohio League game championship three years ago, didn't have a single letterman at the start of the season.

But the Shermans have shown steady improvement and were able to upset Laurelville by a three point margin.

Unioto is always a dangerous foe. Last year in the final game of the season the Shermans defeated Logan Elm to give Laurelville a share of the title.

Teays Valley's Friday foe is the defending champion of the Metropolitan League, but Pleasant View, undefeated in league play currently holds a strong lead in the race.

Teays Valley is 2-2 in the league. Coach Russ Gregg believes his young team (three sophomores see much action) may have found itself against Whitehall last week. The Vikings outscored the Rams 35-10 in the final period of last week's game.

Warm Field For NFL Title Game?

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Times Herald quoted Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday as saying he was for playing the National Football League title game on a warm-climate, neutral field.

Pro football writer Steve Perkins said Rozelle told him "I'm for it. I'll work to get it moved. Under the conditions it was played last Sunday, the game is unfair to both teams."

Rozelle referred to the sub-zero conditions and the frozen field faced by the Green Bay Packers and the Dallas Cowboys in the Packers' tinging 21-17 victory last Sunday.

Art Modell, NFL president and owner of the Cleveland Browns said the field site "will be discussed in no uncertain terms at our February meeting. I personally believe it should be moved to a neutral warm weather spot. It was zero today in Cleveland. I wouldn't like to have the game at Cleveland at five above or five below."

Modell told Perkins he would propose a "two-year test" for the 1968 and 1969 title games at one of the four NFL warm-weather sites.

Rozelle said he had been "in favor of" the warm-weather concept "for several years" but that too many of the owners in the league were against it. Under present league rules, it would take 13 affirmative votes to change the home-and-home arrangement which alternates yearly between the Eastern and Western Conference winners.

Dallas Cowboy president Tex Schramm said, "When I saw the four bowl games yesterday, which were truly beautiful and great tests of the relative strengths of the teams involved, it was sickening to me that the greatest game of all couldn't have been played under the same circumstances. The resulting comparison was not in keeping with the NFL."

Second-Ranked Houston Mauls Michigan, 91-65

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston's sky-high Cougars have cleared another plateau on the way to their Astrodome summit clash with mighty UCLA.

The second-ranked Cougars, who meet Lew Alcindor and No. 1 UCLA in a Jan. 20 rematch of their 73-58 loss to the Bruins in last year's NCAA semi-finals, mauled Michigan 91-65 Tuesday night for a 14-0 season mark.

All-American Elvin Hayes led the way as Houston, playing its fourth game in six nights, flattened the visiting Wolverines. The 6-foot-8 Big E scored 31 points and grabbed 13 rebounds with 6-9 Ken Spain and 6-5 Don Chaney contributed 15 and 14 points, respectively.

The Cougars, who captured the Rainbow Classic title in Honolulu last weekend, have reeled off 47 straight victories on their home court. They play Centenary and West Texas State at home before taking on the Bruins, 8-0, in a game expected to draw 50,000 fans to the Astrodome.

Fourth-ranked Vanderbilt, only other club in The Associated Press Top Ten to play Tuesday night, came from behind in the second half and trimmed Southeastern Conference rival Alabama 61-61 for its 10th victory in 11 starts.

In other major games, LaSalle tripped Miami, Fla., 92-84 behind reserve Dave Ervin; Yale shaded Georgia Tech 79-78 on Ed Goldstone's jump shot with two seconds remaining. Willie McCarter's jumper with two seconds to play in overtime sent Drake past Memphis State 76-75 and Detroit downed Indiana 99-93 behind Bruce Rodwan's 36 points.

Elsewhere, North Carolina State crushed Atlantic Christian 111-52; Florida State whipped The Citadel 96-75; Virginia Tech trimmed Ohio University 74-65 and Jacksonville edged William & Mary 71-69.

Vanderbilt shut off Alabama's Rich Deppe and Mike Nordholz, who had combined for 25 first-half points, and overcame a 10-point halftime deficit at Nashville, Tenn.

Tom Hagan hit for 28 points and Bo Wyendant, who triggered the second-half comeback with three straight baskets, added 18 for the Commodores. Nordholz topped the Crimson Tide with 19 points after scoring 11 before intermission. Deppe failed to connect in the second half before fouling out with 11 minutes to play.

Ervin entered the Miami-LaSalle game with two minutes remaining in the first half and went on to score 21 points, leading the visiting Explorers to their eighth victory in 11 starts. Bernie Williams hit for 15 of his 25 points in the first half, helping LaSalle snap the Hurricanes' five-game winning string.

At Atlanta, Yale's Goldstone picked up a loose ball following a missed shot and dropped in the winning 20-footer, capping a 25-point spree. Teammate Rick Stoner scored 23 points as the Elis boosted their record to 7-3. Phil Wagner topped Georgia Tech scorers with 27 points.

McCarter scored all but two of Drake's 14 overtime points and finished with 35—two more than Mike Butler of Memphis State—in the Bulldogs' Missouri Valley Conference victory at Memphis. Herb Hilliard scored for the Tigers with 27 seconds remaining regulation play, tying is 62-62 and forcing the overtime period.

Detroit, playing its 10th consecutive home game—counting a pair in last week's Motor City classic—outran the slumping Hoosiers for an 8-2 season mark. Rodwan, a 6-5 forward, took scoring honors and also divided 38 rebounds with teammate Tom Richardson.

Sophomore Joe Cooke scored 20 points for Indiana, which has lost three in a row after an opening six-game victory string. Ohio University suffered its sixth loss, 74-65 to Virginia Tech on the Bobcats' court. Ohio, behind as much as 13 points, had rallied to tie it 49-49, but Tech then scored five straight points with seven minutes remaining and never trailed.

John Canine of Ohio was the high scorer with 19 points. Chris Ellis, and Ted Ware had 14 each for Tech.

In the only other game involving Ohioans, Ashland, paced by Jim Basista and John Schetzle, whipped Marian of Indiana 65-46. Basista had 20 points and Schetzle 19.

D-H Stable To Sell Out All Horses

HIALEAH, Fla. (AP) — The fascinating success story of the D and H Stable and the race horse named Needles, which began here exactly 13 years ago, will end in the same auction ring Jan. 31.

At that time, Jack C. Dudley and Bonnie M. Heath, two young men from Oklahoma who started their racing operation when they paid $20,000 for Needles, will sell all their 69 horses, which have been appraised at $1 million.

Needles won such races as the Flamingo, Florida Derby, Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes in 1956, earned $600,035 during his career and contributed mightily to the success of the D and H stable as one of America's leading thoroughbred operations.

Dudley and Heath left the racing scene after a few years and went into commercial breeding, selling their output as 2-year-olds in training at the Hialeah sales each January. In 10 years their horses brought $1,581,300 and their broodmare band was outstanding.

Big Boxing Matches Set For Center

NEW YORK (AP) — An attractive doubleheader featuring unbeaten heavyweight contenders Joe Frazier and Buster Mathis plus a middleweight title rematch between Emile Griffith and Nino Benvenuti will open the new Madison Square Garden Center to boxing the first week in March.

Announcement of the two 15-round bouts is expected to be made at 2:30 p.m., EST, press conference today.

The pairings were disclosed by The Associated Press Tuesday night. It also was learned that:

1. The Frazier-Mathis winner will be recognized as the world heavyweight champion by the New York State Athletic Commission.

2. The package will cost the Garden $500,000. Frazier and Griffith each will get $150,000 while Mathis and Benvenuti will receive $100,000 apiece.

They bounced back from their loss with an improved performance and a victory over Huntington High School.

Fans from both schools probably remember last year when the Braves won handily in the holiday tournament, as the Wildcats did this year, but then were barely able to win in double overtime in the following conference game.

Westfall has been idle since a Dec. 22 loss to Southeastern High School of Ross County. It is the only blemish on the Mustangs' record this season.

Unioto and Westfall present interesting contrasts. The Mustangs began the season with four returning starters in Andy Hamman, Charles Palmer, both seniors; Ed Cornwell and Tony Lightle, both juniors.

Senior Denny Fletcher was filling the fifth position on the team until the Southeastern game when Gene Carfrey won a starting chance.

UNIOTO coach Don Heff, who guided Circleville High School to its last South Central Ohio League cage championship three years ago, didn't have a single letterman at the start of the season.

But the Shermans have shown steady improvement and were able to upset Laurelville by a three point margin.

Unioto is always a dangerous foe. Last year in the final game of the season the Shermans defeated Logan Elm to give Laurelville a share of the title.

Teays Valley's Friday foe is the defending champion of the Metropolitan League, but Pleasant View, undefeated in league play currently holds a strong lead in the race.

Teays Valley is 2-2 in the league. Coach Russ Gregg believes his young team (three sophomores see much action) may have found itself against Whitehall last week. The Vikings outscored the Rams 35-10 in the final period of last week's game.

Warm Field For NFL Title Game?

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Times Herald quoted Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday as saying he was for playing the National Football League title game on a warm climate, neutral field.

Pro football writer Steve Perkins said Rozelle told him "I'm for it. I'll work to get it moved. Under the conditions it was unfair to both teams."

Rozelle referred to the sub-zero conditions and the frozen field faced by the Green Bay Packers and the Dallas Cowboys in the Packers' tinging 21-17 victory last Sunday.

Art Modell, NFL president and owner of the Cleveland Browns said the field site "will be discussed in no uncertain terms at our February meeting. I personally believe it should be moved to a neutral warm weather spot. It was zero today in Cleveland. I wouldn't like to have the game at Cleveland at five above or five below."

Modell told Perkins he would propose a "two-year test" for the 1968 and 1969 title games at one of the four NFL warm-weather sites.

Rozelle said he had been "in favor of" the warm-weather concept "for several years" but that too many of the owners in the league were against it. Under present league rules, it would take 13 affirmative votes to change the home-and-home arrangement which alternates yearly between the Eastern and Western Conference winners.

Dallas Cowboy president Tex Schramm said, "When I saw the four bowl games yesterday, which were truly beautiful and great tests of the relative strengths of the teams involved, it was sickening to me that the greatest game of all couldn't have been played under the same circumstances. The resulting comparison was not in keeping with the NFL."

The Pittsburgh Pipers, who have been chasing the Minnesota Muskies for a long time, finally caught them. Almost.

Pittsburgh's 14th straight victory Tuesday night, a 105-97 beating of Kentucky carried the determined Pipers to a virtual tie for first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association, 10 percentage points behind Minnesota, which lost to Dallas 112-109.

In other ABA action, New Orleans edged New Jersey 97-96, Denver beat Indiana 98-80 and Anaheim turned back Oakland 141-121.

Second-Ranked Houston Mauls Michigan, 91-65

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Houston's sky-high Cougars have cleared another plateau on the way to their Astro-dome summit clash with mighty UCLA.

The second-ranked Cougars, who meet Lew Alcindor and No. 1 UCLA in a Jan. 20 rematch of their 73-58 loss to the Bruins in last year's NCAA semi-finals, mauled Michigan 91-65 Tuesday night for a 14-0 season mark.

All-American Elvin Hayes led the way as Houston, playing its fourth game in six nights, flattened the visiting Wolverines. The 6-foot-8 Big E scored 31 points and grabbed 13 rebounds with 6-9 Ken Spain and 6-5 Don Chaney contributed 15 and 14 points, respectively.

The Cougars, who captured the Rainbow Classic title in Honolulu last weekend, have reeled off 47 straight victories on their home court. They play Centenary and West Texas State at home before taking on the Bruins, 8-0, in a game expected to draw 50,000 fans to the Astro-dome.

Fourth-ranked Vanderbilt, only other club in The Associated Press Top Ten to play Tuesday night, came from behind in the second half and trimmed Southeastern Conference rival Alabama 67-61 for its 10th victory in 11 starts.

In other major games, LaSalle tripped Miami, Fla., 92-84 behind reserve Dave Ervin; Yale shaded Georgia Tech 79-78 on Ed Goldstone's jump shot with two seconds remaining. Willie McCarter's jumper with two seconds to play in overtime sent Drake past Memphis State 76-75 and Detroit downed Indiana 99-93 behind Bruce Rodwan's 36 points.

Elsewhere, North Carolina State crushed Atlantic Christian 111-52; Florida State whipped The Citadel 96-75; Virginia Tech trimmed Ohio University 74-65 and Jacksonville edged William & Mary 71-69.

Vanderbilt shut out Alabama's Rich Deppe and Mike Nordholz, who had combined for 25 first-half points, and overcame a 10-point halftime deficit at Nashville, Tenn.

Tom Hagan hit for 28 points and Bo Wyendant, who triggered the second-half comeback with three straight baskets, added 18 to the Commodores. Nordholz topped the Crimson Tide with 19 points after scoring 11 before intermission. Deppe failed to connect in the second half before fouling out with 11 minutes to play.

Ervin entered the Miami-LaSalle game with two minutes remaining in the first half and went on to score 21 points, leading the visiting Explorers to their eighth victory in 11 starts. Bernie Williams hit for 15 of his 25 points in the first half, helping LaSalle snap the Hurricanes' five-game winning string.

At Atlanta, Yale's Goldstone picked up a loose ball following a missed shot and dropped in the winning 20-footer, capping a 25-point spree. Teammate Rick Stoner scored 23 points as the Elis boosted their record to 7-3. Phil Wagner topped Georgia Tech scorers with 27 points.

McCarter scored all but two of Drake's 14 overtime points and finished with 35—two more than Mike Butler of Memphis State—in the Bulldogs' Missouri Valley Conference victory at Memphis. Herb Hilliard scored for the Tigers with 27 seconds remaining regulation play, tying is 62-62 and forcing the overtime period.

Detroit, playing its 10th consecutive home game—counting a pair in last week's Motor City classic—outran the slumping Hoosiers for an 8-2 season mark. Rodwan, a 6-5 forward, took scoring honors and also divided 38 rebounds with teammate Tom Richardson.

Sophomore Joe Cooke scored 20 points for Indiana, which has lost three in a row after an opening six-game victory string. Ohio University suffered its sixth loss, 74-65 to Virginia Tech on the Bobcats' court. Ohio, behind as much as 13 points, had rallied to tie it 49-49, but Tech then scored five straight points with seven minutes remaining and never trailed.

John Canine of Ohio was the high scorer with 19 points. Chris Ellis, and Ted Ware had 14 each for Tech.

In the only other game involving Ohioans, Ashland, paced by Jim Basista and John Schetzle, whipped Marian of Indiana 65-46. Basista had 20 points and Schetzle 19.

D-H Stable To Sell Out All Horses

HIALEAH, Fla. (AP) — The fascinating success story of the D and H Stable and the race horse named Needles, which began here exactly 13 years ago, will end in the same auction ring Jan. 31.

At that time, Jack C. Dudley and Bonnie M. Heath, two young men from Oklahoma who started their racing operation when they paid $20,000 for Needles, will sell all their 69 horses, which have been appraised at $1 million.

Needles won such races as the Flamingo, Florida Derby, Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes in 1956, earned $600,035 during his career and contributed mightily to the success of the D and H stable as one of America's leading thoroughbred operations.

Dudley and Heath left the racing scene after a few years and went into commercial breeding, selling their output as 2-year-olds in training at the Hialeah sales each January. In 10 years their horses brought $1,581,300 and their broodmare band was outstanding.

Chamber Makes Final Plans for Annual Meeting

Board of Directors of Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce held its first meeting of the year Tuesday noon at the Pickaway Arms.

Final plans were made for the annual dinner meeting of the Chamber's general membership. The banquet is slated Jan. 25, in the 4-H Grange Building at the fairgrounds.

Directors were given tickets to be dispersed to the general membership.

A membership drive will be conducted in February, according to Keith Wagner, chairman. Wagner and Frank Gans, vice president, also noted that there was need for a policy regarding members who were delinquent in paying their dues.

A POLICY was adopted that members will be dropped from chamber membership after 90 days. It was also noted that names would be published in the monthly newsletter.

John Evans was appointed as a director to fill the unexpired term of Clare Silkwood, whose transfer from the Circleville-Owens-Illinois plant was effective Jan. 1.

Committee chairmen for the new year were announced as follows: Agri-business, Chaney Vance; airport, Asa Elsea; area development, Charles Baker; city-county planning, Ned Harden; community appearance, Joe Smith; congressional action, Bob Cole; education, A.D. Bray; program, Mike Harrison; public relations, Wayne E. Smith; retail merchants, George Fuhrman; safety and health, Dr. William Myers; welcome and membership, Harold Anderson.

It was also announced that the Jaycees' annual Distinguished Service Awards Banquet is scheduled Jan. 22.

Keith Reeves, manager of the local Kroger Store, was a guest at the noon luncheon meeting.

Drug Addict Riot Over; Damage High

NORCO, Calif. (AP) — Some 250 narcotics addicts interned at a state rehabilitation center seized control of the facility Tuesday, burning buildings and stoning guards until massed law enforcement officers quelled the riot.

Six officers were injured and five of the rioters wounded, one fatally. Damage was estimated at $250,000 at the California Rehabilitation Center located 60 miles east of Los Angeles.

"I would say the residents definitely had control for a couple of hours," said Roland W. Wood, superintendent of the center. "This is the worst disturbance since the center started in 1961."

After 300 guards and law enforcement officers from surrounding communities rounded up the rioters, 51 inmates were shipped off to the maximum security California Reception and Guidance Center in China.

Rhodes Sets Resort Tour

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes planned today to kick off a tour that would take him to 10 Ohio ski slopes.

"Ohio is coming into its own as a winter sports center and we have 10 of the best ski slopes in the Midwest," the governor said on the eve of the tour.

He planned to visit Sugar-creek at Bellebrook this afternoon and later go to Valley High at Bellefontaine.

Thursday he plans to visit Snow Bowl at Cadiz and High Slopes at Harlem Springs. On Friday he will tour Clear Fork Valley at Butler and Snow Trails at Mansfield.

He will wind up the tour Saturday, hitting four ski areas; Mount Chalet and Alpine Valley in the Chesterland area; Brandywine at Northfield and Boston Mills at Peninsula.

Lausche Happy Taft Won't Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says he is "profoundly happy" that Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, will not try for Lausche's Senate seat this year.

Lausche said Taft's announcement fortifies the conviction that the course he has followed in the Senate is substantially sound.

Lausche, who will be seeking his third six-year Senate term, however, may face strong opposition from within his own party. Former Rep. John J. Gilligan, D-Ohio, now a Cincinnati city councilman, has indicated he may enter the Democratic primary against Lausche.

Okun Urges Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur M. Okun, the 39-year-old college professor who is President Johnson's choice for chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, says a host of money problems await Americans if taxes aren't raised.

Okun told newsmen Tuesday the alternatives to Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge are higher interest rates, increased price-wage pressures, a tight money situation for those seeking loans and continued disruption of the balance of payments.

Okun, who will succeed Gardner Ackley in the top economic post once Ackley is confirmed by the Senate as ambassador to Italy, said labor and management will have to cooperate fully if stable prices are to be maintained. But he said there's no plan to use wage-price controls.

Okun, a former member of the Yale University faculty, will be the youngest man ever to chair the Council of Economic Advisers. Like Ackley, he subscribes to the New Economics philosophy that the manipulation of tax rates, federal spending and other money policy can sustain economic growth. However, he avoided getting into any specifics of economic policy during his session with newsmen.

Good Times Predicted

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — John L. Tripp III, 23, is custodian of the dump and makes his forecasts of the economy on the unwanted articles tossed there.

"Yes, 1968 is going to be a very good year," says Tripp. To support his forecast, he pointed to empty bottles which had contained champagne and imported beer.

"Then there's those Christmas trees—$7 or $8 each," Tripp said. "In bad times, there's nowhere near so many of them and what there are are scrawny little things...costing maybe a buck or a buck and a half."

Tripp adds that "you can also tell if things are good or bad by the big things like dishwashers, refrigerators and stoves. Fellow dumped a stove here last week, not a darn thing the matter with it. He said he just figured it was time to get a new one."

Doctor Involved in Probe Over New-Type Operation

TORONTO (AP) — Medical records at Toronto General Hospital show that Dr. Gordon Murray cut and rejoined the spinal cord of just one of seven spinal patients he operated on, but the hospital has no information on the outcome of the operation or the condition of the patient, the University of Toronto reported Tuesday.

The patient is believed to be in the United States but was not named in a report on the investigation into Dr. Murray's operations made by Leonard Bertin, an information officer at the university. The hospital is affiliated with the university.

"We do not know how the resection operation went because we have had no contact with the

Hixon Won't Run Again

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Butler County Sheriff James F. Hixon, spurred by the advice of a physician, has decided not to run for re-election next November.

Hixon made the announcement here Tuesday, saying his future plans are indefinite and he is unsure whether he will complete his present four-year term.

"In the last two months I have made several trips to my doctor and he has advised me not to subject myself to another campaign," said Hixon who has held the post since Jan. 1961. Hixon, 52, of nearby Oxford, suffered a heart attack in 1962 and has been treated surgically since then for back and gall bladder ailments.

The sheriff was appointed to succeed the late Paul Pell in 1961 and was elected to the current term in 1964.

Bandit Enters Wrong Bank

BOSTON (AP) — The man walked into the South End branch of the Charlestown Savings Bank Tuesday and handed teller Lawrence Goldman a note demanding all his money.

Goldman, after conferring briefly with another teller, wrote a note in reply and handed it to the man.

"You're in the wrong bank," the note said. "You'll have to go to somewhere else." The man left the bank.

patient," said Bertin.

Controversy has swirled around the 73-year-old Canadian surgeon since he told a medical dinner Nov. 14 he had developed a method of rejoining a severed spinal cord by removing bits of damaged cord and joining the undamaged ends.

During his talk he had a 24-year-old accident victim, Bernard Proulx, wheeled in on a bed. He had Proulx demonstrate that he had regained partial use of his hands and legs. There seemed no doubt at the time that Murray was claiming to have performed the landmark operation on Proulx. Colleagues' reactions ranged from congratulations to serious reservations.

Dr. William R. Drucker, surgeon-in-chief at Toronto General Hospital where Murray operated on Proulx, later announced that an examination indicated Proulx's spinal cord had not been cut and rejoined. Drucker said Proulx had undergone only the standard operation for relief of spinal pressure.

Murray refused to clarify his position, and Drucker ordered an investigation into the records of his operations.

Murray refused to comment on the results of the study announced by Bertin.

Bertin said that Murray was bound to be aware of the usual procedure for obtaining approval for any new surgical techniques—asking authorization from his hospital committee to use the procedure on human beings.

"This Dr. Murray has not done," Bertin said.

Man Is First
With Tax Return
PITTSBURGH (AP) — For the ninth time in 10 years, Frank Finley was first in line Tuesday to file his 1967 income tax form. He showed up 45 minutes before the Internal Revenue Service office opened.

Finley, a retired secretary and business manager for a suburban school district, was beaten in 1966 by a former IRS district director.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller urged lawmakers today to practice restraint in spending and painted a picture of a worsening economic plight in the world and nation.

The governor, who insists he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, used his annual message to the New York state legislature to urge all levels of government "to strike the balance between what is doable and what is desirable."

"It seems to me that we have arrived at a moment which cries aloud for a pause to take stock," said Rockefeller who, during the last eight years, has embarked the state on massive spending programs to upgrade education, curb pollution, and improve transportation and health care.

"As a people, and as local officials, we must face the fact that government at all levels—just like a family—cannot spend way beyond its means for long without weakening its credit and undermining its strength," Rockefeller asserted.

He said that "we may well be reaching a point where the level of expectations of the American people is rising at a rate which is out-running our capacity to raise revenue on a sound basis—on a basis that will not seriously affect economic growth and increased job opportunities."

Set Removal Of Compound From Wreck

DUNREITH, Ind. (AP) — Officials said the 236 residents of Dunreith will be allowed to return to their homes when a deadly chemical compound is removed from a tank car left battered but unbroken in the wreckage of two freight trains.

Two Pennsylvania trains sideswiped New Year's night, setting off a series of explosions in ammonia, gasoline and oil tankers, and forcing evacuation of the residents.

Blast-driven flames destroyed a cannery, service station and three homes. Windows were broken in a dozen other homes and businesses.

George Winburn, safety director of Rohan & Haas Chemical Co. of Louisville, Ky., said it would take 8 to 10 hours for the team of experts to transfer the lethal acetone cyanhydride to a tanker truck. The compound, used in making plexiglass, produces cyanide gas when exposed to air.

Officials said the transfer may be complete by tonight. Many townspeople stayed with friends and relatives in other cities, while some were lodged in motels.

Seek Accord On Vehicles In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Mission has reached a tentative agreement with the South Vietnamese government to end the impounding of official American cars and trucks which aren't properly registered.

Vietnamese police started hauling vehicles in by the score Tuesday, forcing some U.S. Army colonels and AID officials to walk or take cabs. One U.S. official termed it "an administrative mess that defies the imagination."

Some 300 of the official vehicles have been impounded.

Many trucks used to carry goods from the Saigon port also have been impounded, and the port has begun to clog up, officials said.

The estimated 10,000 U.S. Mission vehicles in south Vietnam were supposed to have been re-registered by the first of the year. They display special "TN" plates, and the Vietnamese police ordered the reregistration so they could apprehend Vietnamese driving an estimated 20,000 American cars with illegal "TN" plates to escape import and use taxes, which are high.

"We do not know how the resection operation went because we have had no contact with the patient," said Bertin.

Controversy has swirled around the 73-year-old Canadian surgeon since he told a medical dinner Nov. 14 he had developed a method of rejoining a severed spinal cord by removing bits of damaged cord and joining the undamaged ends.

During his talk he had a 24-year-old accident victim, Bernard Proulx, wheeled in on a bed. He had Proulx demonstrate that he had regained partial use of his hands and legs. There seemed no doubt at the time that Murray was claiming to have performed the landmark operation on Proulx. Colleagues' reactions ranged from congratulations to serious reservations.

Dr. William R. Drucker, surgeon-in-chief at Toronto General Hospital where Murray operated on Proulx, later announced that an examination indicated Proulx's spinal cord had not been cut and rejoined. Drucker said Proulx had undergone only the standard operation for relief of spinal pressure.

Murray refused to clarify his position, and Drucker ordered an investigation into the records of his operations.

Murray refused to comment on the results of the study announced by Bertin.

Bertin said that Murray was bound to be aware of the usual procedure for obtaining approval for any new surgical techniques—asking authorization from his hospital committee to use the procedure on human beings.

"This Dr. Murray has not done," Bertin said.

Rockefeller Paints Dark Cash Picture

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller urged lawmakers today to practice restraint in spending and painted a picture of a worsening economic plight in the world and nation.

The governor, who insists he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, used his annual message to the New York state legislature to urge all levels of government "to strike the balance between what is doable and what is desirable."

"It seems to me that we have arrived at a moment which cries aloud for a pause to take stock," said Rockefeller who, during the last eight years, has embarked the state on massive spending programs to upgrade education, curb pollution, and improve transportation and health care.

"As a people, and as local officials, we must face the fact that government at all levels—just like a family—cannot spend way beyond its means for long without weakening its credit and undermining its strength," Rockefeller asserted.

He said that, "we may well be reaching a point where the level of expectations of the American people is rising at a rate which is out-running our capacity to raise revenue on a sound basis—on a basis that will not seriously affect economic growth and increased job opportunities."

Bandit Enters Wrong Bank

BOSTON (AP) — The man walked into the South End branch of the Charlestown Savings Bank Tuesday and handed teller Lawrence Goldman a note demanding all his money.

Goldman, after conferring briefly with another teller, wrote a note in reply and handed it to the man.

"You're in the wrong bank," the note said. "You'll have to go to somewhere else."
